COUNCIL FACES £570K DEFICIT

CANNOCK Chase Council could have to tackle a shortfall of more than £570,000 over the next four years, according to new figures.

The authority has a forecast deficit of £578,000 in 2017-18, a report to cabinet chiefs revealed, but the authority is looking at ways to cut costs now, to protect services and jobs.

By Lisa O'Brien

Council leader George Adamson said a decision on council tax was also yet to be decided for 2015-16 and depended on how much the Government was prepared to give in grants.

Sharing buildings and services is just one of the ways in which Cannock Chase Council will pull in funds to reduce the potential shortfall. Retaining more business rates is another idea.

Head of finance Bob Kean said an agreement had been reached with the Greater Birmingham and Solihull Business Rates Pool, allowing Cannock Chase Council to retain more of the business rates it receives.

Shared

He said the authority was also sharing some services with Stafford Borough Council, for example in human resources and IT, and it was making greater use of its council offices in Beecroft Road.

Mr Kean said the building was being shared with staff from the NHS, clinical commissioning group and Staffordshire County Council.

According to the report to the council's cabinet, the authority could face a deficit of £176,000 in 2016-17 which could grow to £578,000 in 2017-18.

But Mr Kean said: "We have time to consult and think about what we are doing. We are exploring further accommodation to see who else can come into the building."

Other areas being looked at to save money include a senior management restructure, reviewing services and looking at ways the council commissions services to make sure they provide value for money.

The council will also consider external funding opportunities and review charges for services.

The report to cabinet said the authority has a number of earmarked reserves set aside for future events and part of the funds could support future budgets.

Mr Kean added: "Reductions to services are implemented as a last resort."

No decision has yet been made over council tax charges for 2015-16. Councillor Adamson said the amount it would be set at depended on government grants.

At the cabinet meeting, he said: "We haven't made a decision on the council tax yet. Hopefully we are looking at a freeze, depending on the Government grant."

He said that this year the council had achieved a surplus in its budget and was looking at ways to make savings for the future.

Stalls galore at Victorian festive market

Getting ready for the Victorian market are Wycherleys Cheese traders Liz Minshall and Tony Minshall

A POPULAR market will take a step back in time to usher in the Christmas spirit tomorrow.

A Victorian Christmas Market will run from 5pm to 9pm on the site of Penkridge Market. There will be more than 100 food and local craft stalls as well as plenty of entertainment. Visitors can enjoy local produce and refreshments including a hog roast.

The Old Deanery Farm Cafe will also be serving hot drinks and festive food, including a traditional turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

There will be craft stalls selling present ideas including handmade jewellery, gifts, handbags and wooden toys. Father Christmas will also be there as well as Arthur's Fun Fair, a fire eater and stilt walker.

There will also be the local church choir singing Christmas carols to get traders and shoppers in the festive spirit. Market manager Matt Williams said he was expecting a big crowd.

He said: "We are all looking forward to welcoming the Victorian Market for the fifth year running this Friday. We hope to see the aisles thronged with people as they have been for the last few years at the Victorian Market."

Penkridge Market is a long established traditional open stall market held every Wednesday and Saturday all year round. Special bank holiday markets are also held as well as car boot sales and a fine food and craft market takes place once a month.

The market is in the centre of Penkridge, just off the A449. Admission to the event is free.

Penkridge Leisure Centre also has a weekend of Christmas fun for children on December 19 and 20. Activities include Christmas Cracker sessions for children aged eight to 12 which will include making Christmas table decorations, cake craft and party games.

Three held in raid on cannabis factory

THREE people have been arrested after one of the largest cannabis factories in years was discovered in Staffordshire.

The drugs factory was found inside a large, disused barn in the grounds of an old farm in Lodge Lane on the border of Saredon and Cheslyn Hay.

Officers from South Staffordshire Local Police Team (LPT) seized 1,606 cannabis plants with a street value of £800,000 after they executed the drugs warrant at the old Lodge Farm with the help of Home Office Immigration Enforcement and the National Crime Agency (NCA).

Chuong Pham, aged 47, and Dung Nguyen, 44, both of no fixed address, were arrested and appeared before magistrates in Newcastle-under-Lyme on Thursday and were remanded in custody to appear at Stafford Crown Court on a date to be set.

A 53-year-old man from Wolverhampton was also arrested he remains on bail pending further inquiries.

The raid was carried out on Wednesday last week.

Police confirmed Lodge Farm is currently standing empty. It was on the market due to be sold by Marwood Homes although bosses have delined to comment.

Centre treat for children

YOUNGSTERS are being treated to a day of festive delights in Cannock Shopping Centre next weekend.

From 11am to 4pm on Saturday, December 6, a face painter will be on hand to transform children into snowflakes, reindeer, snowmen and more.

In addition, a mischievous Jack Frost character on stilts will be hand out free sweets.

Shopping centre manager Natal Chapman said: "It is a great way to begin the Christmas celebrations."

Warning as stranger confronts youngster

A YOUNGSTER was approached by a man on their way to school in Cannock, prompting police to launch an investigation amid fears that it was an attempted abduction.

Text messages have been sent out to parents of youngsters at a number of schools in the area to tell them what happened.

The child was said to be on their way to school in Norton Canes when they were approached on Thursday.

Staffordshire Police spokesperson Sarah Davison said it is not yet clear what the man's intentions were.

She said: "We are investigating a report that a child was approached by a man on their way to school in Norton Canes. The child was not harmed in anyway and it is not clear what the man's intentions were. Officers are carrying out thorough inquiries to establish the facts of what happened. Our advice to parents is to remain calm and vigilant."

One of the schools to send out messages to parents was Gorsemoor Primary School, in Heath Hayes, whose headteacher Paul Bennett said: "It seems people were talking to each other on social network sites almost immediately.

"We then sent out a text message to our parents."

Witness plea on mugging

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a man was punched in the face during an attempted robbery.

The incident happened as he was walking in Greenwood Park, off Bradbury Lane, Hednesford, and a Ford Focus containing four or five occupants pulled up.

A man got out and demanded his cash and phone.

The victim, from Cannock, refused and the offender hit him. He suffered facial injuries. It happened at 6.45pm on November 18.

Shoppers advised on beating crime

STAFFORDSHIRE Police have launched a crime prevention campaign to warn people of the added temptation for criminals during the festive season.

The drive will focus on vehicle crime, personal safety and robbery.

Chief Superintendent Jeff Moore said: "At a busy time it's all too easy for shoppers to leave cars unlocked, or items on display when they're focused on their shopping. We do see a rise in theft from insecure cars as criminals target vehicles around this time of year.

"Likewise when the number of shoppers increases it's a lot easier for pickpockets and shoplifters to conceal themselves amongst the crowds."

As part of the awareness campaign the force is warning shoppers to take precautions when leaving their vehicle unattended as opportunist thieves are likely to target people they see taking bags back to cars.

Staffordshire Police are increasing the number of uniformed and plain-clothed officers to help keep town centres safe and shoppers reassured, working closely with store staff and CCTV operators to take early action against anyone seen acting suspiciously.

At home people are urged not to leave presents on view and to not store bigger gifts in sheds and garages and instead to ask a relative to store gifts for children.

Shoppers who avoid the crowds are advised to protect themselves from cyber fraud by ensuring they only use reputable websites.

Learning centre set for new lease of life

A PURPOSE-BUILT vocational centre in Burntwood could be given a new lease of life after proposals have been put forward to transfer it to a local schools partnership.

The Pathways Partnership wants to take on the running of the Lichfield and Burntwood Vocational Centre in the spring. It comes after the county council sought to secure a viable future for the centre.

There has been a reduction in the number of people using the centre, which is made up of Two Rivers High School, Chase Terrace Technology College, Hednesford Valley High School and Saxon Hill School.

Subject to the transfer, and dependent on funding from the Staffordshire County Council and central government, the centre in Bridge Cross Road could provide vocational learning for students aged 16 and over with special educational needs (SEN).

Work

Young people with SEN would be able to develop practical skills to increase their independence and gaining employment in a skilled profession.

The proposals have been approved by the county council but are still subject to the completion of further work on the proposal and tests of its viability.

County Councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for education and skills, said: "This is positive news for the Lichfield and Burntwood Vocational Centre. Obviously, this is just a proposal at this stage, but I am confident that the partnership will be able to develop a full proposal that benefits young people with SEN. This could also mean the individual schools themselves can create additional space to cater for the increased number of SEN students progressing to secondary school in the coming years."

MP wants clear road markings

AN MP has called for road markings near the new i54 site to be improved.

Gavin Williamson has called on highways bosses to make road signs clearer by the M54 and A460 Cannock Road.

Residents have contacted the Conservative South Staffordshire MP to express concerns about both the visibility and the speed of drivers coming off the M54 on to the A460.

He said council bosses have raised the issue of road markings being worn away and has called on the Highways Agency to improve the section of road to reinforce the markings.

Mr Williamson has previously campaigned to have the M54 tarmacked in order to reduce the noise coming from the M54 and raised the issue in Parliament.

He said: "I have called on the Highways Agency to ask if there would be any possibility of improved road markings on this sections of the road.

"My biggest concern is the safety of local residents using this roundabout.

"Therefore I believe that adequate measures must be taken to ensure the safety of drivers is protected," he added.

Cbeebies spot for chirpy son

Harrison Colwell with his budgie Tommy and three-week-old budgie Captain Beaky

HIS collection of budgies helped him get through his father's recovery from a horrific crash and now he is preparing to star in his own television show.

Five-year-old Harrison Colwell's father Mark spent three weeks in hospital after being knocked from his bicycle and run over by a car. The family bought some budgies to take Harrison's mind off his father's injuries – and the collection has now swelled to 16, with two cockatiels.

His mother Sarah applied for him to take part in My Pet and Me on Cbeebies, and the makers spent three days filming at the family home in Wedges Mill, Cannock.

The episode is expected to air on December 11. Some of the birds are kept in an outdoor aviary, but the programme focuses on four budgies that stay indoors – Parma, Lemonade, Charlie and Tommy.

Mr Colwell is still recovering from the crash in Bognop Road, Essington in March.

Mrs Colwell, 31, said: "The fact Harrison has been chosen for the show is fantastic."

Axe hangs over 25 jobs at Gestamp

UP TO 25 jobs are at risk at a multi-national car parts firm's base in Cannock.

Gestamp Tallent in Wolverhampton Road is shedding the posts as part of a 'restructure'.

The firm is the biggest employer in the town and civic leaders have raised concerns at the announcement. But bosses have insisted they hope to reduce the number of job losses and say they are consulting with the firm's 1,000 workers.

The jobs at risk are believed to include shift managers and team leaders.

In a statement, the firm said: "We can confirm that as part of a business improvement activity we have announced proposed restructuring this week at our Cannock plant, that could lead to a maximum of 25 redundancies.

"We will be working very hard to find alternatives which remove the need for any employees to leave our business."

The company supplies parts to car manufacturers including Bentley, BMW, Ford and Porsche.

Cannock Council leader George Adamson said: "Something like this happening just before Christmas is not good news."

Uni honour for Stephen

FUNDRAISING Burntwood teenager Stephen Sutton has received a posthumous honorary degree from Coventry University.

The 19-year-old died of cancer in May after raising £3 million for the Teenage Cancer Trust. More than £2m more has been raised since.

Part of the cash is being used for 50 university scholarships to train people in cancer care.

His mother Jane accepted the honorary doctorate of science at Coventry Cathedral. Last week she accepted an MBE on his behalf.

Go-ahead for homes on former clinic site

CANNOCK Chase Council's Cabinet have agreed to build 21 new affordable homes in Rugeley.

These will be built in Green Lane on the site of the former Hill Springs Clinic and an area of adjacent council-owned land.

The 21 dwellings will comprise seven two-bedroom houses and 14 one-bedroom flats and will be constructed by local developer Jessup.

The scheme will cost an estimated £2 million with construction planned to start in the spring.

It is expected that 12 months later 21 households from the council's housing register will move into their new homes.

Councillor Frank Allen, housing portfolio leader, said: "It is a council priority to increase the supply of affordable housing in the district and in partnership with Jessup we are able to take another step to achieving this. It will also be a great improvement to the area."

Clive Jessup, chief executive for Jessup, said: "We are delighted to be working with Cannock Chase Council in providing much needed affordable homes.

"As a local company we will used local suppliers."

Panto is on way to school

A FUN-FILLED family pantomime isto be performed at a Huntington school.

Mother Goose will be staged at Littleton Green Community School on Tuesday, December 9, at 7pm. It is also being staged in Stafford and Derby.

Director Steve Graham, of CreateChurch:Cannock, said: "The show is full of the usual fun and live music with lots of surprises."

Tickets, costing £4.20 for adults and £2.10 for school-age children, are available from the school or at www.createchurchcannock.co.uk/pantomime-tickets/buy

ST John's Church, in Slitting Mill, is holding a Christmas coffee morning on Wednesday at 10.30am. There will be various stalls at the event, and tickets will be on sale for the Christmas raffle. Admission is £2 including coffee or tea, and biscuits or homemade cake.

Amazon drivers blamed for spoiling towpath

District councillor Paul Fisher and parish councillor Mary Easton

A COUNCILLOR is demanding action on the state of a beauty spot which, he claims, is being spoiled by 'inconsiderate' lorry drivers.

Police and environmental health officers are investigating the complaint.

Councillor Paul Fisher accused HGV drivers of using the canal towpath beside the Amazon base in Rugeley as a toilet. The problem has arisen since the online retailer closed part of its site at Towers Business Park for improvements.

A new lorry park and extra staff car parking spaces as well as a new entrance off Wheelhouse Lane are being built. This has led to lorries parking on the dual carriageway and next to the towpath, said Councillor Fisher, who represents the Brereton and Ravenhill ward.

He said the path is a favourite of walkers and dog owners. "A number of people have pointed out the problem to me" he said.

"The towpath is in a disgusting state, and that is also the opinion of the council's environmental officers who have been down there cleaning up.

"Police are also patrolling, trying to catch people in the act. Amazon have a duty to provide facilities for delivery drivers. I understand they are trying to put the situation right by building new toilets beside the main building but that doesn't help matters now. Drivers should not to be so inconsiderate."

He said parish councillor Hazel Soutthwell had also received complaints.

No-one was available when Amazon was contacted for a comment.

Fewer cases go to court but town bucks the trend

THE total number of cases heard by magistrates courts in the Black Country and Staffordshire has fallen by more than 26 per cent in four years, new figures reveal.

Courts dealt with 70,537 cases in 2013-14 compared with 95,439 in 2010-11.

Most of the courts saw a drop in the total number of hearings heard between 2010-11 and 2013-14 with only Cannock bucking the trend and reporting an increase.

National figures show that courts across England and Wales heard 2.8 million cases last year – nearly a million fewer than in 2010.

The figures were uncovered by Dudley North MP Ian Austin who said he was concerned by the statistics.

Last year, the MP led a successful campaign to save Dudley Magistrates Court from closure.

Serious

"We already know that a million crimes are not being recorded, the number of police is down by 13,000 and now these figures show that the number of cases taken to court is down by a quarter.

"When I was fighting to save Dudley's local court from closure, magistrates told me police are dealing with serious cases, including domestic violence and rape, out of court. I think people will be outraged. Like me they want more police on the streets."

The figures show that the

By Simon Stone

number of cases heard at Dudley Magistrates Court during the four-year period dropped from 15,552 to 10,502 – a reduction of around 32 per cent.

Meanwhile, at Wolverhampton, the figures show 14,010 hearings took place in 2013-14 compared with 23,124 in 2010-11 – a drop of around 39 per cent.

At Walsall the number of cases heard fell by around 49 per cent from 19,493 to 9, 864 and at Warley there was a drop of around 31 per cent with 18,468 cases heard in 2010-11 and 12,584 in 2013-14.

In Stafford, cases have fallen from 9,771 to 4,839.

However, the situation was different at Cannock Magistrates Court where the number of cases heard during the four-year period more than doubled.

In 2010-11 there were 9,031 hearings held compared with 18,738 last year.

This represents an increase of 107.4 per cent.

Care home extension bid

PLANS to extend a care home in Rugeley have been lodged with the council. Eight extra bedrooms will be created at Copperdown Residential Home in Church Street if the proposals are given the go-ahead by Cannock Chase Council. Under the scheme which has been submitted, a ground and first-floor extension would be constructed. A new common room for residents at the home is also planned. The care home currently has 29 bedrooms.

A map showing a possible route of the link between the M54, M6 and M6 Toll

Exhibitions to show the options for the link to the M6 Toll are to be held

Plans for link road set to go on show

PLANS to build a major link road between the M54, the M6 and the M6 Toll are to go on show next month.

Exhibitions are being held to outline the options for the route, which could see a new road from between junctions one and two of the M54 near Wolverhampton, past Featherstone and up to Junction 11 of the M6 near Cannock.

Another option is to provide a northbound slip road from the M54 on to the M6.

Currently cars can only go south on the M6 and get on to it at junction 10A.

An eight-week public consultation begins on December 5.

The proposal has been in the pipeline since 2003.

Public exhibitions will take place at Featherstone and Hilton Community Centre on December 5 from 2pm to 8pm and the following day from 10am to 4pm.

There will be another at Shareshill Village Hall on December 7 from 10am to 4pm.

People can complete an online questionnaire on the scheme at http://www.highways.gov.uk/roads/road-projects/m54-to-m6m6-toll-link-road/ or email M54toM6/M6tolllink-road@highways.gsi.gov.uk

NEWS IN BRIEF

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

A GROUP of cat owners have posted images on the internet allegedly proving that, if you create a circle on the floor, a cat will automatically sit inside it. So I made a circle of rope on the lounge floor and our old tabby pointedly stayed outside it and eventually sat down next to it. This proves the oldest feline rule of all. The more you want a cat to do something, the less it will.

I LOVE this email: "Receive an envelope from the NHS today containing two letters. One confirmed a hospital appointment. The other cancelled it. This is factual. I'm not clever enough to make this stuff up."

I HAVE an explanation for the curious case of the reader whose smartphone suddenly produced a text message from an optician shortly after she walked past the premises. It is something called proximity marketing. But all the descriptions I have seen stress that users have to opt-in to the system in order to receive messages. You don't recall opting-in? I would hazard a guess that it was somewhere in the terms and conditions, that vast mass of legal bumf that nobody ever bothers to read. In fact, let's have a National T&C Day when everybody refuses to sign up to anything on the internet without first thoroughly reading every single paragraph of the terms and conditions. The system would crash.

ON the bodge-it-yourself website DIYnot, the conversation turns to the difficulty of finding good tradespeople in London. A contributor in the capital writes enviously: "Outside London all the people are well suited to manual labour. They all wear wellingtons and drive to work on tractors." Yup, that's us.

STRANGE times. It used to be the rule that anyone becoming prime minister would be more unpopular during his term in Downing Street than at any other time in his life. How times change. Weird Ed is record-breakingly unpopular before he gets anywhere near No 10 and Tony Blair, the multi-millionaire bringer-of-peace, is even more detested today than when he was in residence.

THE tear-jerking Sainsbury's yuletide advert, set in the Christmas Truce of 1914, has obviously been working its sentimental magic. A contributor to one of the national newspapers implores us: "Should we not have compassion for the thousands of German soldiers, also sons, fathers and brothers?" I can see why someone might want to extend remembrance to the amiable, photogenic young German soldiers in the Sainsbury's ad. But what about their comrades who ransacked the Belgian city of Louvain, torched its priceless medieval library and executed hundreds of civilians, including women and children? Do they, too, deserve a place in our hearts and a chunk of our Sainsbury chocolate? And what about Hitler's death squads, or today's enemy, the Taliban and their fellow beheaders, the Islamic State? Are they all to be remembered with compassion, too? If not, why not? The moment we start extending compassion to all our enemies is the moment we put our soldiers on the same moral level as Jihadi John. Not in my name, thanks.

INCIDENTALLY, there's not much evidence that a football match was played between German and British soldiers during the 1914 truce. Most accounts describe the soldiers exchanging gifts, showing each other family photos and talking about football. No matter. The image of a football match is so powerful that it is remorselessly passing into history without the need for any historical evidence. It should have happened, so let us tell the kids it did happen.

Hit-run banned driver, 25, jailed

A DISQUALIFIED driver who used his van as a 'weapon' and seriously injured a man in a hit-and-run has been jailed for seven years and four months.

John Thomason drove a van at 42-year-old Gareth James and his friend Richard Vernon in Wilkin Road, in Brownhills, in August, Wolverhampton Crown Court heard.

Mr James was badly injured and has been unable to return to work after suffering a bleed on the brain. His friend suffered minor injuries.

Mr Hugh O'Brien-Quinn, prosecuting, said at the time the pair had been walking with another man, Matthew Evans, who had a minor argument with Thomason at the Waterside pub, in Wilkin Road, shortly beforehand.

Despite having received an 18-month driving ban earlier this year for driving with excess alcohol, Thomason, 25, went to get his van which he had parked outside his girlfriend's parents home. He drove back to the pub to pick her up and they drove away from the scene but later returned.

The court heard the van was seen driving up and down several times at speed along Wilkin Road. Mr O'Brien-Quinn said Thomason had deliberately mounted the kerb and drove at Mr James and Mr Vernon.

Thomason, of Thetford Road, Great Barr, previously admitted causing grievous bodily harm with intent to Mr James, attempting to cause grievous bodily harm to Mr Vernon, driving while disqualified, dangerous driving and having no insurance.

Music ban after club caught without licence

A POPULAR nightclub in Cannock town centre has been banned from playing music after it was caught playing tracks illegally.

Club Lounge was visited by an inspector from royalties collectors Phonographic Performance Ltd (PPL) in July this year. Owner Mark Harrison was caught playing recorded copyrighted music at the club when he did not have a PPL licence.

At London's High Court, Harrison was banned from playing recorded music at the Church Street nightclub and was also ordered to pay £1,667 in legal costs.

Failure to obey the order and turn the premises into a music-free zone until all licence fees are brought up to date would be regarded as contempt of court, the penalties for which can be fines of up to £10,000 and up to six months in prison.

Facts

During the hearing Mr Justice Norris was told that Harrison was caught playing 'The Night Out' by Martin Solveig and 'We'll Be Coming Back' by Calvin Harris and Example during the inspector's visit.

Making the order he said: "I am satisfied that the facts proved support the claim for relief. I will accordingly grant an injunction.

"Costs should follow the event. I am satisfied that the sum of £1,667 is a reasonable and proportionate sum to award in respect of the costs." PPL's representative Fiona Clark told the hearing that solicitors had sent letters to Harrison informing him of the nature and extent of PPL's repertoire and the fact that playing the music without a PPL licence constituted an infringement of copyright but she said: "We have had no contact."

The ban applies to all forms of mechanically recorded music such as records, tapes and CDs in PPL's repertoire.

Nazneen Nawaz, spokesperson for PPL, said: "PPL issues licences to hundreds of thousands of businesses and organisations across the UK when they play recorded music to their staff or customers.

"Licensees include bars, nightclubs, shops, hotels, offices, factories, gyms, schools, universities and public sector organisations up and down the country."

The club was open as normal at the weekend.

Mr Harrison was unavailable to comment.

New pub has party feeling

General manager Jules Raikes toasts the new-look bar with Jo Davies, HR business partner

A town centre nightclub has been revamped and converted into a pub and bar, focussing on food during the day and music at night. Missoula has been rebranded The Merchant after a refit.

The premises is still owned by Stonegate Pub Company, which owns 620 pubs and bars across the country.

It features a new dancefloor and DJs on Friday and Saturday nights but it also offering more food to attract families during the day. General manager Jules Raikes said: "It's an exciting time to introduce a brand new offer to Cannock, just in time for the Christmas party season. We intend for The Merchant to be the best place to party in Cannock and have several plans in place alongside our regular DJ led weekend party nights, such as live music."

The Merchant will be open Monday to Thursday from 10am to midnight, Friday and Saturday from 10am to 2am and Sunday from midday to 11pm. Missoula opened in Cannock in 2011, replacing Stones.

Care home closure is another step closer

THE closure of a care home in Staffordshire has moved a step closer after council bosses backed the plans.

The county council says falling numbers mean it is costing more to treat people at Great Wyrley Community Support Unit. It offers respite care for those with conditions including dementia and learning difficulties.

Although it has 16 beds council bosses say it has an average of six vacancies a night. If every bed was filled the gross cost per bed each week would be £936. However, because of the vacancies the average cost is closer to £1,470 per bed.

Staffordshire County Council said its preferred option was to close the unit and offer short-stay residential care provided elsewhere.

And the authority's cabinet has now backed the proposals. They will now consult with patients and their families over the plans.

Councillor Alan White, cabinet chief for health, care and well being, said: "We want to consult with stakeholders with an interest in short term respite care in the south of the county about how we can most effectively support the needs of people using respite care, and their families and carers."

Allotments for villagers

ESSINGTON is to get its first ever allotments in a new £80,000 scheme.

Residents can sign up for a plot from January onwards after land was secured on two acres on High Hill. The Bushbury Trust, which owns the land, gave the go-ahead after a report was presented by Essington Allotments Association.

Councillor David Clifft, who has spearheaded the project, said: "The site will accommodate around 50 allotments, which will range in size.

"We have already secured £24,000 for the project."

Counting down to switch-on for town

SHOPPERS and traders in Rugeley are ready to party at the town's Christmas lights switch-on tomorrow.

Countdown to Christmas will feature a large street market running through the town with 40 stalls open from 11am to 7pm. Within the town centre there will be fairground rides including a carousel in Brook Square and a snow globe in Market Square.

From 1pm, DJ Dunc will provide music to get everyone in the mood for the festivities. Santa will arrive on his sleigh via Upper Brook Street at 4.45pm and will be in his grotto from 5pm.

The turning on of the Christmas lights will be performed from Market Square at 6pm by local traders and residents Pat and Dave Hancock who celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary this year. They are involved in fundraising activities throughout the year for various local causes.

Pat and Dave will also be in Brook Square at 7pm to lead the countdown to the firework finale which will be held on the top of Market Hall. Throughout the day there will be street entertainment, school choirs and the Salvation Army playing in Market Square, 6-7pm.

Father was found hanged

A RETIRED tool shop worker was found hanged at his home in Great Wyrley, an inquest in Cannock heard.

His son Paul found Eli Richards dead at the property in Norton Lane on July 3, the hearing was told.

The Wednesbury-born 77-year-old's health had been deteriorating since he was diagnosed with malignant mesothelioma, a cancer linked to asbestos exposure.

Dc Neil Johnson said two suicide notes were found.

Assistant coroner Louise McCabe concluded that Mr Richards had committed suicide.

Fair at church

A HUNTINGTON church hosts its Christmas fair this weekend. The event, at St Thomas's Church on Saturday, from 11am to 3pm, will feature various stalls, refreshments and Father Christmas. It will be followed by a Christingle service on Sunday at 4pm.

Four developers apply for crematorium deal

THE battle to build a new crematorium in South Staffordshire has intensified with four developers officially submitting detailed proposals to planners.

The sites in Essington, Perton, Wergs, and Four Crosses near Cannock, are now being looked at by officers at South Staffordshire Council with decisions expected early in the New Year.

Leader Brian Edwards said the authority would have to look at each scheme on their individual merit meaning, in theory, all four could be approved. "We could approve all four or we could approve none," he said. "They have to be looked at individually." He said he could not comment further because he did not want to prejudice the council's decisions or forfeit his right to speak when the schemes are discussed formally.

But MP Gavin Williamson said: "In my view we seem to have had a bandwagon effect where one scheme was being talked about and then suddenly there has been an explosion of proposed sites.

"We have gone from a situation where over the past 40 years there was no proven or significant need to suddenly people claiming there is a huge need. I think it has all got a bit bonkers. I have not got a desire for any of them." There are currently no crematoriums in South Staffordshire.

The scheme in Essington is being spearheaded by the Westerleigh Group and has met with opposition from villagers and residents in Bloxwich.

The 11.6-acre site in Broad Lane would see between four and five services a day.

Council chiefs in Staffordshire have agreed to lease the land to the firm for 75 years. Westerleigh managing director Richard Evans said: "We have found a lot of support from members of the public for our plans." The scheme in Wergs off Holyhead Road is being promoted by Dignity. They say the site would include a wild flower meadow and cater for six services a day.

The boss of endurance challenge Tough Guy is behind the plans for a 'forest crematorium' off Jenny Walkers Lane in Perton. Billy Wilson says his crematorium would be surrounded by 100,000 trees and the profits would be put back into the community.

The Four Crosses proposal would see a crematorium, chapel and a 75-space car park built just behind the Truckers Rest cafe on the A5 close to Gailey reservoir.

Diggers move onto park for next phase of works

THE next phase of improvement works at a popular park in Staffordshire has been launched.

Diggers have moved onto Hednesford Park to build a new network of footpaths. The park was awarded £2.2million from the Heritage Lottery Fund in 2012 and the money is being used to fund the works.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said he was pleased to see the project moving ahead.

He said: "The diggers have moved on to create new footpaths. The revamp work at the park will be going on for a few years. People won't recognise the park when it is finished. It will look wonderful."

As part of the wider transformation of the site, the pavilion is being extended to two storeys featuring a community room, balcony and ground floor café. A new skate park is also being created, as well as a new car park. New tennis courts have already been installed.

Replaced

The children's play area will also be relocated to the centre of the park with the equipment updated.

One of the three adult football pitches will go, to be replaced by a junior or two mini-soccer pitches. One of the two bowling greens will also be lost. The works are due to continue until 2017.

In February, an historic signal box dating back to the 1800s was moved to the park which has become its new permanent home. It was moved over from the Chase Line near Hednesford station.

It will be fully renovated before it is opened to the public. The box will also be used as an office or base when there are events on at the park. The building was constructed in the 1870s.

Faults hit response phone lines

PHONE lines for the police and ambulance service were hit by technical faults at the weekend.

It meant people reporting non-urgent police and medical matters on the 101 and 111 numbers could not get through to operators, with the fault believe to be in Birmingham. Both services had problems for up to two hours before the difficulties were resolved.

Vodafone, which operates both numbers, apologised and is investigating.

Communications watchdog Ofcom said it was investigating the problem 'as a matter of urgency'.

Motoring organisation RAC said its breakdown number also went down after 'Vodafone suffered a catastrophic failure to its telephone equipment' affecting many large businesses who use its services.

The 101 number is for local police in England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland, for less urgent matters than 999. The 111 service is a 24-hour medical advice line for non-emergency inquiries. Emergency calls to 999 were unaffected.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

CHRISTMAS is big business. This has been the case for years, of course.

Without it the high street and anyone in retail would likely suffer a huge dip in takings as the run-up to the festive period offers an enormous boost to see them through the leaner times of the year.

Parents are determined to give their children the best.

They want the must-have toys on Christmas Day but they also want to offer a magical experience and build a lifetime of memories.

All this the creators of The Magical Journey, based at The Belfry hotel, knew when they were creating their winter wonderland with the help of celebrity interior designer Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen.

Everything about it and the people and organisations involved suggested high quality.

Complaints of lacklustre decorations, unwrapped presents and high prices resulted in the wise decision to temporarily close it, refund tickets for the first few days and spend time getting it right.

We hope it all opens again as planned and that everything runs smoothly.

Cautionary

Yet it is a cautionary tale for anyone in business at this time of year and a timely reminder that for many consumers Christmas is simply too important to get things wrong.

The lights are going on all over the West Midlands and are beginning to brighten up what would otherwise be a grim and depressing time of year, with the nights getting ever longer.

Even so, there will also be tensions as people crowd into shopping centres, struggle with bags and possibly even quarrel over whatever items are going to be in huge demand this year.

Customers of The Magical Journey have every right to complain and to have demanded the situation be rectified after it failed to meet the expectations of the ticket price.

Any business that does not deliver what has been promised to this extent will suffer the consequences of an online backlash, as has happened at The Belfry.

Even so, we should also remember the enormous effort that is put in to the festive season by many people working behind the scenes to give everyone a welcome and much needed bit of relaxation and cheer.

We are about to enter the season of goodwill, after all.

When things go wrong they must be put right.

But when things go exactly to plan, a thank you to those who have spread a little Christmas joy never goes amiss.

Lotto success for big money draw

The National Lotteryhas proved just the ticket for its lucky winners in 20 years PETE MADELEY reports

IT is 20 years old and created more 3,700 millionaires – including several from the West Midlands – and raised billions for good causes. Happy birthday, National Lottery.

Since the first draw was on November 19, 1994, it has become a national institution. Twenty new millionaires were created on the weekend of its anniversary.

Among the Midlands big winners are Tom Naylor, who grew up in Wednesbury and became the Black Country's biggest lottery winner when he scooped a colossal £15.5m windfall on the Lottery Extra game in 2001.

Mr Naylor who worked as a lorry driver in West Bromwich, won the jackpot in the week the National Lottery was celebrating its seventh anniversary.

The 58-year-old said he continued to play the lottery several times a week – and still celebrates the occasional win.

Spending

He said: "I have the same set of numbers I play and since the big win I have had quite a few other wins. Obviously the amounts are much smaller but it still gives me that same feeling.

"I don't know if it is just luck. Some people play for years and never win a penny. People ask me why I carry on playing after winning so much money, but it's something I have always loved doing so why stop?"

Mr Naylor and his wife Rita celebrated their win by lavishing £375,000 on a plush barn conversion in Wheaton Aston and embarking on a spending spree involving lavish foreign holidays and luxury motors The win allowed the pair to live out their wildest dreams, which for Mr Naylor included replacing his clapped out old Ford Granada with a top of the range Jaguar. They moved to the Staffordshire countryside from a modest £50,000 three-bedroom semi in Birmingham Street, Darlaston.

He went on to buy a fleet of six mean machines: a limited edition Jaguar XJR saloon, and XKR Convertible Jaguar, a Jaguar XJ2 20, a Bentley Continental, Aston Martin DB9 and Range Rover Discovery. The couple also took part in the star studded Bullrun automotive rally in 2007, a thrilling 3,000 mile road race from Montreal to Key West in Florida in just seven days.

Rita, who used to work at Walsall leather firm Daines & Hathaway, said despite the win – and her penchant for shopping – she was just as likely to be found rooting around the shelves of M&S and Next.

"I'm not bothered about designers at all," she said. "If it looks nice, I'll have it."

Eighty-year-old Thomas Foden and his daughter Irene Harper, then 60, from Tipton, won a share of the UK's first Lotto quadruple rollover jackpot in October 2012.

But instead of splashing out on mansions, they plumped for matching bungalows in Sedgley.

Former Tarmac construction worker Mr Foden said the win hadn't changed him: "I am still doing exactly the same thing.

"I mix with the same chaps. I don't boast about what I've got. It's nice to have the money. It's nice to know that I've got it if I need it.

"But as long as I have my meals and can go to the pub, I am happy."

Mr Foden said his priority was to make sure his four grandchildren – Carl, Simon, Claire and Helen – were looked after.

He has also shared the money with his daughter Freda and two brothers, Bill and Ray.

"It has not gone to my head. I have not changed my life at all," he said.

The region has seen some big syndicate winners as well.

Richer

In 2003, a 10 strong syndicate at a West Bromwich residential home scooped £1.9m.

Six years later, the town struck it rich again when a lucky 13 bus workers at Travel West Midlands's depot in Oak Lane, West Bromwich, scooped £105,909 after matching five numbers plus the bonus ball.

They'd only been in it to win it for 13 months, before syndicate leader Harpreet Singh suggested they play the Wednesday draw and the move paid off, with each member becoming £8,146.85 richer.

In 2005, six security guards at Areva T&D in Stafford sat on their winning ticket for four days unaware they had won just over £10,000 each in the January 1 draw. They matched five numbers and the bonus ball to land a £61,111 win.

WEEK IN POLITICS

with Daniel Wainwright

AMID the anger over the planned closure of police station front desks, I have to feel a little bit sorry for David Jamieson.

The West Midlands Police and Crime Commissioner was elected into the role at enormous cost and on a measly low turnout.

At £3.7 million and serving an electorate of about two million people it was one of the biggest and most expensive by-elections ever. Yet while Labour's Mr Jamieson won a decisive victory with more than 50 per cent of the votes cast, it was not the greatest moment for democracy.

Barely one in 10 people bothered to vote for who they wanted to fill a role few even understood.

It showed that, almost two years on from when the role was created, not that many people wanted to accept the offer of greater political and democratic accountability within the force.

This week a lot of people read the name David Jamieson. MPs from his own party are demanding he change a plan to shut the front desks of 27 police stations and reduce the opening hours of others.

The argument in favour is that few people go to the police station in person now, preferring instead to communicate by phone or internet. But, inevitably, the talk turns to the £3 million saving, coming as it does at a time of deep cuts in police funding.

If there was no police and crime commissioner in the first place, there would have been no election and therefore no cost to the taxpayer. In short, that's another year's worth of front desks staying open.

And before anyone gets all pedantic and points out that the election costs are met by the Home Office and the front desks by the police, just remember it's all public money. The source of it, whether central or local government, is you.

Where I feel especially sorry for David Jamieson is how isolated he now appears within his own party. Of course his colleagues in Parliament are keeping things professional. But they are all agreed this is a bad idea.

They put on a united front by blaming the Government for the cuts, but the final decision on how to deal with them rests with the Commissioner.

If he does give in to the demands of Westminster politicians it would call into question the whole point of the role. After all, why have a locally-elected police commissioner if he changes his mind after petitions and letters from MPs?

When Dudley Labour MP Ian Austin brought up the plan with William Hague in the Commons he was just told how satisfied people have been with the police, effectively pushing responsibility back up to Mr Jamieson in his office in Birmingham.

The review of front desks was started by Mr Jamieson's predecessor Bob Jones, whose sudden death triggered the by-election.

Kamila, 13, powers to national victory

Kamila Czartolomna at the controls of the boat at Penkridge-based South Staffordshire Sailing Club

SHE is just 13-years-old but Kamila Czartolomna has become the first female in 10 years to win a national boating competition – winning her Penkridge-based club a £16,000 boat in the process.

The teenager was the fastest in a series of speed boat heats in Southampton, showing off her skills along a slalom course.

She was crowned national champion when she claimed Honda RYA Youth RIB Championship victory at the Southampton Boat Show.

This was the third successive year that South Staffordshire Sailing Club's Kamila qualified for the national grand final, going head to head against the 13 other regional champions, but the first time in the older 13-16 years age-group having previously competed at 8-12 years level.

The boat was presented by Staffordshire High Sheriff Ann Fisher.

Kamila, of Perton, said: "The water was much calmer than it was last year and the year before.

"I was hoping to win because I came second last year and I've been down at the club practicing almost every weekend so it feels great. I love the fact that this competition gives you something that you wouldn't normally get to do."

She was not the only member of the Czartolomna family in action in Southampton – her nine-year-old sister Aga made her national final debut, having only taken her event bow in the 8-12 age group this summer and finishing 11th overall.

Martin Warburton, the sailing club's commodore, said: "Training our youngsters in the use of powerboats has been a long-term aspiration and focus, and one which our dedicated team of junior instructors gladly put their time towards.

"Many youngsters at the club have greatly enjoyed taking part in the Championship and because of this prize we will be able to continue this.

"Kamila has worked extremely hard to develop her skills, gradually honing those over the last few years."

School can be blamed for parking

WITH reference to the accident in Avon Road, Cannock (Chronicle, November 13).

How refreshing to see that the headteacher of Longford Primary School 'will be happy to work with the relevant authorities in any way necessary to consider any options available'.

She should look just a little bit closer to home. I live on the Longford estate and believe me, twice a day, morning and evening, during term time it is almost impossible to exit Ascot Drive onto Longford Road because of cars parked both sides of the road, in the bus stop and on the pavements.

I am amazed that there has not been an accident outside the school, and would suggest the 'relevant authorities' walk 200 yards down Longford Road to the school from the scene of the accident at drop-off and collection times. By the way, what has happened to the lollipop lady at the school?

We expect better value for money

MY eldest son enjoys going to the local youth club every week for a kickabout and a chat, as do many of his friends. It is held at the high school which they all attend.

Recently he came home with a letter from Staffordshire County Council stating that the youth club was going to close by the end of the year.

The letter, which was a mix of statistics and management speak, stated that at the moment the council-run youth clubs do not give value for money. In the same week, it was reported that Staffordshire County Council were seeking to recruit a new chief executive on £200,000 a year (plus perks and a nice big pension, I should imagine) to replace the current CEO, who was leaving the post for pastures new.

I should imagine many people reading this will agree with me that our taxes should be spent wisely on youth clubs, libraries, which incidentally seem to be under threat, care homes and repairing the many potholes on our roads and pavements. What we do not want is our hard earned money wasted on making someone very wealthy at the expense of services that we expect the council should provide.

I do not think that £200,000 a year is value for money considering many of the people contributing to this obscene figure have not had a pay rise for many years.

Support at bonfire much appreciated

HAMMERWICH Cricket Club's committee would like to say a huge thank you to the public who supported their bonfire celebrations. The weather made for a very challenging situation. However, the rain stopped in time for the public to enjoy what we feel was a very successful event.

Thanks are also extended to St John Ambulance for their continued support of Hammerwich Cricket Club.

As teh club is run solely by volunteers, every pound spent has to be raised. The support we received at the bonfire is invaluable and much appreciated, enabling the club to go from strength to strength, now fielding six senior teams, four junior teams, plus a ladies eleven. The club extension opened in 2011 has made it possible to accommodate both sexes and disabled people. The club is also available for hire – call Ron Box on 01543 685244. If you have an interest in cricket, call club captain Brian Fisher on 07980 838640.

Doubts over democracy

The reporter who was given a list of child abusers was visited by MP Cyril Smith who demanded this list. The reporter refused, but received a visit from Special Branch.

Mr Smith must have contacted someone high up in government who arranged the visit by Special Branch. I have always believed we live in a democracy, but over the last few years I have changed my mind.

Voters need to be aware of the facts

GIVEN the rise in popularity of Nigel Farage's UKIP, it's about time the British people were made aware of the truth.

First, their claim to be some kind of 'alternative' to the 'Westminster Elite'. This cannot be the case when they fully intend to continue, in a more extreme form, the failed neo-liberal economic system espoused by Thatcher, Major, Blair and Cameron.

Then there's their claim to be a 'people's army' and an apparent voice of the disaffected working class. Contrary to popular belief, Nigel Farage is not an 'ordinary bloke down the pub' but the son of a stockbroker and public school-educated.

The party is playing a part in the growing hostility among ordinary working people towards immigrants – their fellow human beings.

Do the British people really, seriously, want all of the above?

Do volcanoes affect climate change?

WE are constantly told by the climate change 'experts' that the developed world population with its profligate energy usage is to blame.

Well, can any expert tell me what effect all the active volcanoes around the world have on the atmosphere and therefore, climate change? According to what I glean from the internet, it seems that there are about 1,500 active volcanoes at any one time, continually spewing out dust, smoke, ash and toxic gases to a lesser or greater degree.

Then there are the 'joins' between the tectonic plates where material is constantly produced at the bottom of the oceans. Surely this must put immense amounts of heat and acids into the oceans. If the activity of these natural causes does have an effect, might it not be a contributory factor?

Families of fireworks victims deserve better

IT was good to see the article in the Chronicle regarding the condolences offered to the families of the Stafford fireworks factory blaze victims.

Jeremy Lefroy, MP for Stafford, gave his condolences during the Commons Question Time.

Prime Minister David Cameron also sent his condolences to the families of both victims.

My disappointment is with our own MP, Aidan Burley.

Both Mr Stewart Staples and Mr Simon Hillier are both from Mr Burley's constituency. Not a word from him, as far as I know.

Marion is the toast of meeting

SI Cannock & District

Diamond Celebration Year 2014-15

AT the meeting on November 11 the friendship candle, surrounded by rosemary and poppies, was lit by Shirley Brown on for Remembrance Day.

The speaker was one of only 14 Professional lady Toastmasters in the country. Marion Canning explained that a Toastmaster is typically charged with the organisation of civic events, banquets, organisation meetings, product launches and high profile dinners.

Then she outlined her progression from hopeful young woman wishing to join the select company of toastmasters to eventually gaining a most responsible, but rewarding position as a qualified toastmaster.

Marion explained that her duties start prior to an event with checking the facilities, fire exits and table settings before greeting and shepherding guests to dinner.

Following further funny anecdotes, the vote of thanks was given by Eileen Cryer who complimented Marion on her splendid attire and excellent delivery.

Soroptimists and guests were then reminded of some of the Christmas activities which the club is involved in: working with volunteers at the Soup Kitchen in Mill Street to provide a Christmas Lunch and providing Christmas gifts for the women and children benefiting from the Pathway Project, the refuge for women victims of domestic violence.

Chadsmoor Tapestry Group

FIFTEEN members of the Chadsmoor Tapestry Group were lucky enough to attend an embroidery workshop last month.

The workshop at Chadsmoor Methodist Church and was tutored by Jenny Adin-Christie.

Jenny, a member of the Royal School of Needlework, is an internationally renowned and much sought after tutor. She took the students through some of the skills and techniques of a type of embroidery known as "White work"

The group are grateful to Cannock Chase Arts Council for a generous grant towards the cost of the workshop.

In the past the Tapestry Group have worked on community projectsThe group meets in the church on Wednesdays, between 7.15 and 9.30 pm. Anyone interested in joining the group and developing their needlework skills should contact the club secretary, Jan Cowley on 01543 506206.

Memories from Wall Heath

K&D Historical Society

LOCAL historian John Sparry spoke at the November meeting of the Society about his Kingswinford and Wall Heath Memories.

Born in Kingswinford he told of the local characters, shopkeepers and neighbours whilst living in Moss Grove. After the family moved to Wall Heath he recounted incidents during the war of bombs dropping locally and of his journeys to school in Stourbridge. John is always a popular speaker .

The Society meets at the Community Centre, High Street, Kingswinford. The December meeting starts at an earlier time of 7pm as this begins with the AGM.

The Society is in need of new officers and committee members and unless volunteers come forward it is likely the Society will close in 2015. New members are needed.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Partner, 47, threatened to burn house down

A GRIEVING Rugeley man who threatened to burn down his partner's home while brandishing a can of petrol has been spared an immediate jail sentence.

By Adam Burling

Andrew Hancox fetched the container of fuel from the garden shed and told Lorraine Warner: "If you want to live you had better leave because I'm going to burn the house down."

Ms Warner eventually managed to get the can off him, but the defendant began throwing things around the kitchen, then picked up some knives and waved them around.

"She thought he was going to kill her or possibly turn the knife on himself," said Miss Laura Culley, prosecuting, at Stafford Crown Court.

She locked herself in the conservatory and shouted to Hancox to put the knives down. When police arrived at the property in Phoenix Close, Hancox was holding a knife to his abdomen.

It came after MsWarner had attempted to end their relationship, sparking an angry reaction from Hancox. Within minutes he had started making the threats and then got hold of the petrol can, the court heard.

Hancox, aged 47, of Watson Close, admitted threatening to destroy property, was given an eight-month prison sentence suspended for two years and ordered to pay £250 costs and a £100 surcharge. The court was told Hancox had a 'hazy' memory of the incident and he had been drinking heavily after his mother died.

When questioned, Hancox said he had just wanted to scare his partner, he was ashamed and accepted the relationship was over.

UKIP launches its campaign office

UKIP has opened its first branch HQ in Hednesford. The party, which formed a group in Cannock Chase last September, has more than 100 members and forms the official opposition on Cannock Chase Council.

The party launched its campaign office at 48 Market Street, where its parliamentary candidate Grahame Wiggin cut the ribbon to declare the office open. UKIP balloons were also released. UKIP member and former councillor Linda Whitehouse has donated the use of the office.

Valerie uses her head to help cancer pal

Valerie with her friend Janet Freeman, and hairdresser Becky Griffiths, from the Cutting Company, Hednesford

A FRIEND of a cancer victim has taken part in a sponsored head shave to raise cash for her pal.

Valerie Dawson, aged 69, had her silver locks cut off to help her mate Janet Freeman, 67, who is battling the condition for the third time in three years.

The ladies struck up a friendship after meeting at Hednesford Bingo Hall, Market Street about a year ago. But when Janet lost her hair following treatment Valerie decided to help by doing some fundraising.

Valerie, of Booth Street, Hednesford, says: "It's a really good friendship. I wanted to help Janet because she has helped me out quite a lot. This year I've had three operations to replace both my hips and my one of my knees and she has been a big help.

"She wanted to do something for St Giles Hospice, but we can't do fun runs so we have to think of something different. It was my idea to do a head shave. This is my way of turning a negative into a positive.

"The staff at the bingo club have been very helpful, they organised everything and have been holding bucket collections towards the effort."

The former retired Anchor Housing warden moved from Oldham to Staffordshire five years ago.

Her head was shaved by her hairdresser Becky Griffiths of Hednesford salon The Cutting Company.

She and husband John, aged 73, have three children Martin, aged 46, Peter, aged 44, Vikki, aged 37, and grandchildren MacKenzie, aged six, and Connor, aged four.

Anyone wishing to make a donation can do so via www.justgiving.com/hednesfordbingo/

Inquest on man, 102

A retired newsagent died at a nursing home in Staffordshire just days after suffering a fall and fracturing his hip, an inquest heard.

Samuel Williams died at Lakeview Care Home, Great Wyrley, on August 8, aged 102, Cannock Coroner's Court heard. Mr Williams was said to have died from old age and due to a fall with a fractured left hip, which had not been operated on.

Assistant coroner Louise McCabe said he had been properly cared for and ruled he had died from natural causes.

Man, 38, is jailed for attacks on girlfriend

A THUG who repeatedly attacked his girlfriend, culminating in an assault that fractured her spine, has been jailed for 18 months.

by Simon Stone

Nicholas Cope's brutal attack on his partner was the final act in a campaign of violence that included throttling and hitting her, a court heard.

When she eventually told him she'd had enough and packed her bags, Cope grabbed her around the throat in the bedroom of their Chase Terrace home and held her until she briefly lost consciousness.

Mr Nick Burn, prosecuting at Stafford Crown Court, said the victim just wanted to get out of the house, but Cope confronted her in the kitchen and pushed her in the chest, causing her to fall to the floor.

She immediately felt pain in her back but didn't pay much attention to it until a Pcso found her sitting on a bench outside the town's library. She was taken to hospital where a medical examination revealed she had a fracture of the spine and numerous bruises.

Cope, aged 38, of Rugeley Road, Chase Terrace, admitted grievous bodily harm on July 3 . He also admitted two earlier attacks on her – a common assault on June 9 and assault causing actual bodily harm on June 29.

Recorder Mr Christopher Goodchild, who heard Cope suffered from bipolar disorder, told him: "When you take your medication, most people think highly of you. The reality is, however, although you have medical problems, you were very violent towards your partner. It was suspected she had a burst spleen – it wasn't – the final assault is a broken back. Fortunately, the fracture won't cause future problems."

Along with the jail sentence, the judge also imposed an indefinite restraining order banning Cope from contacting his former partner.

Mr Burn said the first attack, on June 9, saw Cope slap her with the heel of his hand and hit her on the head with an after-shave bottle.

On June 29, the couple were in a social club listening to a band when without warning Cope grabbed her round the throat and hit her with the heel of his hand. She woke up the next morning with bruises over her head. But on July 3 after Cope hit her again, she told him: "That's it, I'm leaving, I've had enough". Cope grabbed her by the throat and she later told police: "I was terrified, there was nothing I could do to get him off."

In a victim impact statement, she said she has difficulty getting up and down stairs and struggles with eating due to the injuries to her neck.

Mr Lee Masters, defending, said Cope had written a letter to his former partner, asking for forgiveness .

Commissioner's £2,500 gift for ex-police dogs

FORMER police dogs in Staffordshire will be eased into retirement with a gift of £2,500 from the county's Police and Crime Commissioner.

Matthew Ellis raised the cash by taking part in an ice bucket challenge earlier this year.

Police dogs retiring from service do not receive any financial support, despite often suffering injuries or illness sustained as part of their duty, and adopters find it hard to get insurance for ongoing veterinary bills.

The Retired Police Dog Fund was launched a year ago to help with bills for ongoing treatment. Mr Ellis said: "Police dogs provide an invaluable service working alongside officers to ensure the public are kept safe.

"The Staffordshire retired police dog charity does such a great job in looking after these dogs after they retire and I wanted to give the dogs something back for their service."

Hayley Birkin, chairperson for the fund, said: "The Staffordshire Retired Police Dog Fund was established a year ago to raise funds and awareness of the retired Staffordshire police dogs."

Residents all ready to move into new homes

COMPLETED work on a development of six affordable homes in Cannock, has been officially marked with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

The five two bedroom and one three bedroom family homes on Huntington Terrace Road and Stratford Way have been built on the site of the old Moon under Water pub.

All the homes offer private gardens and driveways, and their energy efficient design will save residents money on their bills.

Housing leader Councillor Frank Allen, who cut the ribbon, said "It has been a pleasure to join the new residents of this development. I am delighted that we have new affordable homes for residents in the district."

Thrilled

Wrekin Housing Trust managing director Wayne Gethings said: We're absolutely thrilled to be able to respond to the county's need for affordable homes.

"These houses, together with our ShireLiving extra care scheme on Longford Road, which offers independent living to over 55s and opens in the new year, means we are able to provide a mixture of housing across the area."

Meanwhile, the site of 21 new council homes earmarked for land in Rugeley has been revealed.

A total of seven two bedroom houses and 14 one bedroom flats are planned for the former Hillsprings Clinic in Green Lane after Cannock Council borrowed £1m government cash.

Rugeley Town councillor Pat Ansell welcomed the development and said: "I think this is a good thing for the area. I would like to see more affordable housing built in the town, provided

Jobs firm is expanding

A recruitment firm has moved into bigger offices in Cannock.

Direct Workforce left shared offices in the town and now occupies the Vanquish Suite inside the Virage Point building on Walsall Road.

The company, which specialises in the recruitment within the driving, industrial, engineering and commercial sectors, say the new location, owned by businessman Fred Pritchard, makes them more accessible to clients. It hopes to increase group sales by more than £3million during 2015. Senior operations manager Janine Hipkiss said: "We are delighted to have moved into Virage Point. The expansion shows how much progress the local team have made and the new location is perfect for managing our client base across the Midlands and Staffordshire.

"As we continue to aid local and regional businesses that are looking to recruit, our growth will increase job opportunities for our existing candidates as well as other job seekers."

Thirty years on clock at car repair firm

Company founder Cliff Shore, left, and MD Steve Shore with Judith Robson, who is celebrating 30 years at Shorade

AN administrator at a car repair business has clocked up 30 years of service.

Judith Robson, who works at family-owned centre Shorad, in Cannock, was showered with flowers, a cake and gifts at a celebration day.

She started work with the firm, which carries out bodywork repairs on prestige models, on November 19, 1984 when she was taken on by the founder Cliff Shore at 18. The former Sherbrook Comprehensive School pupil attended Cannock College before joining a YTS training programme with the town's Chamber of Commerce before being recommended to Mr Shore.

"I started here as an office junior. I've worked with all the various family members over the years including the girls of the family Julie and Nicky, and now it's run by their brother Stephen," she said. "I have some wonderful colleagues as well who are now lifelong friends," Mrs Robson, aged 48, of Heath Hayes, added.

The mother-of-two, who is married to husband Paul, 49, says she returned to the firm despite taking time out to have her family. Her daughter Alice is now 20, and son Ben is 17.

Special JCB is now the fastest digger on earth

THE Staffordshire-made JCB GT has been crowned the fastest digger on earth after reaching speeds of more than 70mph in Australia.

The JCB GT – originally designed to perform high-speed wheelies at racing events – made the attempt at Bathurst, near Sydney. Guinness World Records has confirmed that the powerful JCB digger was officially the fastest backhoe loader in the world with a speed of 72.58 mph.

Steered

To celebrate the JCB GT went on a tour of Sydney and took a bow for photographers in front of the Opera House and Harbour Bridge.

The machine has been the world's biggest selling backhoe loader for 14 consecutive years.

The firm has made more than half a million backhoes in the past 61 years since inventing the machine in 1953.

JCB demonstration driver Matthew Lucas – nicknamed The Dig during the attempt – was the man who steered the JCB GT to its world record title.

Demonstration driver Matthew Lucas steered the JCB GT to its world record title

Matthew, aged 43, of Stoke-on-Trent, said: "It was great to be involved in such an exciting project."

The JCB GT, which made its debut in 1988, was first driven byemployee Malcolm Grindey. Malcolm, 61, of Marston Montgomery, near Rocester, said: "I have very fond memories of putting the JCB GT through its paces in the Australian Grand Prix so it's great news that it's secured the title as the world's fastest digger on Australian soil nearly 25 years later."

Normally based at JCB's HQ in Staffordshire, the latest JCB GT has a loader and digger end made completely out of aluminium. It went to Australia to perform at car events.

Gillian delighted at £1,000 lotto prize

Lotto winner Gillian Hollis from Slitting Mill with Angi Cooney and Bob Dipple from Rugeley Traders Association

A WOMAN from Slitting Mill received an early Christmas present – a £1,000-plus prize in Rugeley's October lotto. Gillian Hollis was handed a cheque for £1,045 from Angi Cooney and Bob Dipple of Rugeley Traders Association.

"Remember, folks, this is a community event and by buying one of the monthly tickets at £1 you are safe in the knowledge that every penny will be spent back in the town," Angi said. "A huge and grateful thanks to everyone who bought a ticket." The winning number was 0790.

Inquest is adjourned

An inquest has opened on a man from Staffordshire who suffered from lung cancer. Brian Wakeman died at his home in Rosemary Avenue, Cheslyn Hay, on July 15, Cannock Coroner's Court heard. The inquest was adjourned until December 16 for further inquiries to be made.

Firm chosen to fit solar panels on bungalows

CONSTRUCTION firm J Tomlinson has been appointed to fit solar panels on council-owned bungalows in Cannock Chase as part of a pioneering community initiative.

Chase Community Solar is believed to be the first scheme in the UK aiming to put solar panels on the roofs of local authority homes funded by a community share offer. The project aims to raise at least £400,000 to install solar panels on up to 400 properties.

By Simon Stone

Energy efficiency experts at J Tomlinson have been selected to fit the panels, which are designed to help tenants cut energy bills.

Chief executive of J Tomlinson, Mark Davis, said: "Cannock Chase is the second most deprived area in Staffordshire after Stoke-on-Trent, with high levels of fuel poverty. Council tenants benefiting from the solar panels can expect to save up to £250 a year on their energy bills."

The firm currently works in the area for Stafford Borough Council and housing associations Midland Heart, Trent & Dove Housing, Bromford Housing and Accord Housing Association on servicing, maintenance and repair contracts. Investors in Chase Community Solar, which is supported by Cannock Chase Council, are being offered a forecast annual return of seven per cent for the 20-year lifetime of the scheme, with a minimum investment of just £100.

Chase Community Solar chairman Mike Kinghan said: "We believe this is the first community energy project in the UK focusing on council house tenants. If it's successful it will blaze the way for further community energy projects with councils and other social housing providers."

Pupils make the grade in Cadet scheme

Sgt Sean Lawlor and PCSO Dale with Junior Police Cadets from Etching Hill Primary School, Rugeley

CHILDREN from Etching Hill Hill Primary School in Rugeley took part in aStaffordshire Police Junior Cadet graduation ceremony.

The original Cadet scheme, for 14 to 17-year-olds, was initiated in 2013 by Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis to strengthen links between police and young people. Successful units are up and running in Cannock, Stafford and Stoke-on-Trent with more to follow. The programme has expanded with Junior Cadet schemes being launched in primary schools for eight to 10-year-olds across Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent.

A specially selected group of 10 children have taken part in six one-hour sessions led by local Police Community Support Officer (PCSO) Liz Dale during school time, covering areas including road safety, police investigations and anti-social behaviour. The Junior Cadets were presented with certificates for completing the sessions by Sgt Sean Lawlor at the graduation ceremony. The children also received a Junior Police Cadet baseball cap and T-shirt for completing the course.

PCSO Dale said: "I have enjoyed working with Etching Hill Primary-School, and the Junior Cadets have all really enjoyed the scheme as well."

'Urgent care' system avoids 200 admissions

OVERRUN A&E departments have avoided 200 extra admissions after nurses started visiting patients at home in Staffordshire.

The scheme, originally trialled in Cannock, sees 'urgent care' nurses go out to patients who would otherwise call an ambulance or visit accident and emergency. After a successful start in Cannock, it was expanded through the county in May. Since then, the nurses have seen 336 patients and avoided 200 A&E admissions.

The 'urgent care' scheme was originally trialled at Cannock Hospital

Treatment

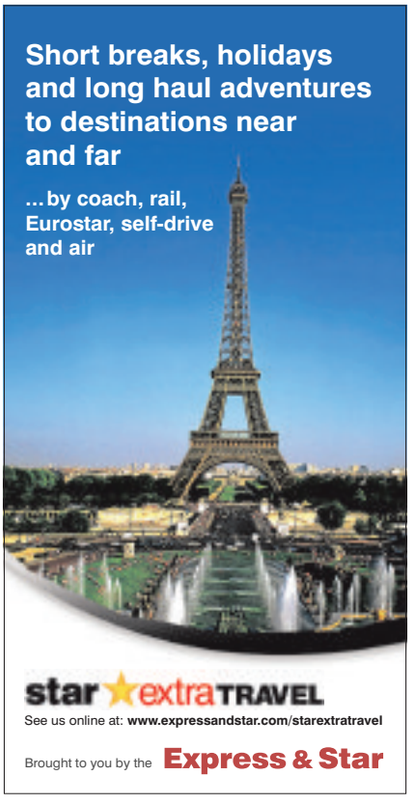
Rose Goodwin, interim director of nursing at the trust, said things had been going well and it was proving an invaluable service. "We know patients recover better in their own homes and that's why this service is so important," she said.

"Our urgent care nurses are experienced and trained advance nurse practitioners which means they can do more than a traditional district nurse such as assess, diagnose, prescribe where appropriate necessary treatment and coordinate a multi-disciplinary approach and therefore patients can be treated better at home and avoid an admission to hospital." Health chiefs hope the new system will continue to relieve pressure on emergency departments. It comes as Stafford Hospital's A&E is closed overnight and hours are reduced at Cannock Hospital's minor injuries unit.

GPs, West Midlands Ambulance Service, nursing and residential homes as well as staff from Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent Partnership Trust can refer to the Cannock-based Urgent Care Service and speak to a clinician to agree the type and timescale of response required.

The urgent care nurse will visit the patient, and treat where possible.

Patients at high risk of being admitted to hospital such as those with terminal illnesses or people prone to falls will have an emergency care plan to help the nurses treat them at home.



Oohs and aahs as actors go Full Monty

The Full Monty, Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton

CLEVER casting, quality acting, fast-moving scenery, special effects — and a delightful young boy. This show has The Full Monty.

This stage production follows the story of the hit 90s movie. Set against the backdrop of industrial depression in Sheffield, six men who have fallen on hard times become strippers for one night only.

It's a feel good story, well-delivered and funny throughout with many one liners.

And, of course, a famous piece de resistance.

Gary Lucy leads the cast as Gaz, alongside ex-soap stars Louis Emerick (Horse) and Rupert Hill (Guy), Andrew Dunn, of Dinner Ladies fame as Gerald, Bobby Schofield (Lomper) and Martin Miller (Dave).

All bear striking resemblances to their film characters and, for the most part, had the accents off to a tee.

There were audible gasps at Lomper's suicide attempt, oohs as Guy showed off his rear, aahs at the terrific performance of Raif Clark as Gaz's son Nathan — and screams from delighted women at a finale that revealed the naked truth.

The Full Monty runs at The Grand until Saturday (November 29).

Poozies perform perfectly

The Poozies MAC, Birmingham

THE Poozies turned up on stage at MAC Birmingham looking like four friends on a girls' night out but with one major exception, these ladies had brought their own entertainment.

Mary Macmaster on electro harp, Sally Barker on guitar, Eilidh Shaw on fiddle and Mairearad Green on accordion are an absolute delight to listen to and the 90 minute set they did just flew by, leaving you wanting more.

Their mixture of self-penned and traditionally arranged Scottish, Gaelic, folk and country-style music is executed with such ease of precision and with their harmonised singing it is simply a joy to sit back and let their music wash over you.

Each of the Poozies has an impressive career outside of the band playing with some of the most skilled musicians on the circuit and individually they are amongst the finest of players but it's when they come together, that the magic that is The Poozies happens.

Funky diva is back to her best at Civic Hall

Paloma Faith, Wolverhampton Civic Hall

JUST weeks after being in hospital, funky diva Paloma Faith was back to her feisty, energetic and soulful best to treat a full house Civic Hall audience to a night to remember on Saturday.

Her latest album A Perfect Contradiction, now out in an 'Outsiders Edition' enhanced by extra tracks, provided the material. Its blend of retro soul, funky grooves and modern R&B struck a chord with an audience who didn't seem to mind the absence of her earlier hits.

Paloma looked stunning with a blonde 60s hairstyle and short, pom-pom trimmed Natalia Kaut dress. She duetted with Brett Dennen on Van Morrison's Crazy Love. Californian Dennen, a Where's Wally? look-alike, makes up for his lack of sartorial elegance with a gentle voice and fine songs revealed during his support slot.

Paloma's show reached its climax with a storming cover version of Ike and Tina Turner's River Deep Mountain High, Can't Rely On You and her first UK No1 (achieved with Sigma) Changing.

Sprinkle of fairy dust from Pan

Peter Pan the Musical, Bilston Operatic Company, Grand

JUST like Peter Pan himself it's a story that will never age. And Bilston Operatic Company certainly did it justice at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre.

The cast gave their all and were in good voice, especially Lucy Follows who played Wendy. Filling the famous green outfit was 17-year-old Maison Kelly.

The well-known story takes us from the nursery from where the three children Wendy, John and Michael are whisked away by Peter Pan to the magical wonders of Neverland. But it ends on a sad note when Peter realises the people he has become close to actually do have to grow up.

Just a couple of niggles, the stage moving was a bit clumsy and the wires used for the flying scenes were noticeable, maybe a darker colour next time.

But these are picky things and overall the performance was very good. Our own little Tinkerbell in the audience certainly loved it

The war veteran at his home in Rushall Close, Walsall

Historical author Heather Steele, Graham and Karl Konig in Normandy in 2014

Graham Stevenson aged 15 with his father Harry

War veteran honoured and humbled by award

GRAHAM Stevenson was so eager to join the Army he lied about his age when he signed up.

MEMORY LANE

By Katy Rose Meaney

The soldier boy was just 16 when he enlisted, but told the recruitment officer he was 18. The officer called him a 'good lad' and he was enrolled on December 11, 1941.

"To serve in any way was a privilege," says the veteran from Walsall who has now been awarded the prestigious Legion of Honour medal for his service during the Second World War.

Now aged 89, he was notified by the Ministry Of Defence that he was to receive the award from France, officially titled the Chevalier de l'Ordre national de la Légion d'Honneur and said it was a 'complete surprise' but one he was very proud of.

As a teenager, Mr Stevenson signed up first to the Royal Armoured Corps. The young soldier was sent to Catterick in North Yorkshire for training before he was deployed to the Middle East. Mr Stevenson, of Rushall, recalls: "It took six weeks to get there on a boat called The Empress of Japan.

"I worked as an anti-aircraft gunner while on-board. I was sent to Cairo and we fought across the Western desert in Libya, and the historic region of Tripolitana.

"We finished in Tunisia where we finally beat the African core and the Italians."

He came home that December just before his 19th birthday and was sent to fight at Normandy in June 1944 with the Sherwood Rangers Yeomanry. While in France he was shot. Mr Stevenson said: "I was injured on July 11, 1944 in Tilly-sur-Seulles. I was outside my tank when I had a burst of machine gun fire through my right arm and that was the end of it for me. I have a very clear memory of that day. I very nearly died."

The solider was taken to a casualty clearing station. While there, he had a transfusion for five pints of blood.

Once he was strong enough, Mr Stevenson was flown back to the UK and spent six months in hospital in Wolverhampton after arriving on a train ambulance.

He was allowed home on November 19 and was later discharged from the Army in 1945, classed as disabled due to his arm injuries. He had a tendon transplant and went back to work in a central wages office where he met his wife, Ella.

The couple wed in March 1946 and were married for 62 years. Mrs Stevenson died six years ago.

Over the decades, Mr Stevenson has donated blood 67 times and has been a poppy seller for 65 years. He has also spent time visiting hospital patients and has been returning to Normandy for the past 10 years.

He now proudly has five British medals, one French medal and a Year of the Volunteer Medal. Of the Legion of Honour, he said: "I am very pleased, it brought back a lot of memories."

Neighbours angry over children's home plans

NEIGHBOURS in a quiet cul-de-sac say they are furious that a semi-detached house is to be turned into a residential children's home.

But the man behind the plans insists that residents have nothing to worry about. Darren Smallman, director of Albrighton Care, has been given permission to use his property in Bridge Avenue, Cheslyn Hay, as an Ofsted-registered care home.

The property will house two youngsters up to 18, with a maximum of four carers working there at any one time.

The plans were approved by South Staffordshire Council planning authority earlier this year after chief executive Steve Winterflood wrote to residents to explain there was no basis on which the plans could be rejected.

He said: "What has been applied for, falls within the existing planning permission or permitted use. In this case the council's clear view is that there was no material change of use.

The back of the house

Concerns

"That view was reached on the basis that the usual expected use for a domestic dwelling could well include six persons at the property.

"The real concerns that have been raised are ones that do not relate to planning issues but rather relate to the Ofsted registration and the issues of crime and disorder."

Residents say they are concerned about the behavioural problems of the youngsters. Karen O'Hara, who lives next door to the house, said: "Residents have been kept in the dark about what is going on right on our doorstep. We have had to fight for the information we have received. This is not a suitable area, it is a quiet residential street. We have now raised our concerns with Ofsted. We do not want this."

Mr Smallman said: "The home is providing a homely environment for children with severe and profound special needs. Children who are extremely vulnerable and need 24/7 care to ensure their needs are being met and not at risk of harm.

"Children will receive a high level of staffing in accordance to their individual care plan and risk assessments implemented by the homes manager.."

Mr Smallman added that residents had been informed of all developments and he had been 'open and honest' about the plans. The property is being fully renovated and is expected to be ready for use early in 2015.

Views wanted on fate of centres

A BURNTWOOD councillor is urging residents to have their say on the future of children's centres.

Consultation is taking place over the possible closure or relocation of centres throughout the county. Two in Burntwood, at Boney Hay and Springhill Primary Schools, are earmarked for closure but Councillor Sue Woodward believes the whole town needs the services provided for young children and families.

The Burntwood North councillor said: "From speaking to parents who use the centres, I know just how much they are valued, not just by parents but grandparents like me and other family members too.

"They provide a whole range of support and social activities for young families."

She is calling on the community to rally round against the proposals, and added: "If the plans go ahead, the whole community will be the poorer."

Residents can take part by completing an online survey, emailing comments to beststart@staffordshire.gov.uk, by speaking to a district children's commissioning officer on 0300 111 8000 or by filling in a paper survey, available from the children's centres.

A night for pampering

LADIES can enjoy a night of pampering at a garden centre tonight (Thursday).

The Ladies Night at Dobbies, Gailey, features a glass of fizz and canapes on arrival and will also feature demonstrations of the latest trends. A £1 donation will go towards the garden centre's chosen charity, Together for Short Lives.

Managing director Andy King said: "Ladies Night is always a fantastic night out. In the past we've seen exclusive beauty and hair treatments on offer, fashion shows and even butlers in the buff." Visit www.dobbies.com

Town aims to become 'dementia friendly'

COUNCILLORS in Hednesford are pioneering efforts to become a 'dementia friendly town' and are promoting awareness of the condition.

Town council members welcomed Will Boyce, from Approach, an organisation helping people with the condition, in his role as a dementia 'champion'. He briefed the councillors on how to support sufferers and carers in a range of situations – and become a 'friend'.

Councillor Wendy Yates

The authority is now aiming to help Mr Boyce spread his message to other groups in the town, especially traders, to inspire a more dementia friendly environment and to publicise guidance on empathising better.

Councillor Wendy Yates said she said she would be working with the town's Lions group to reach out to sufferers and their families.

In his briefing, Mr Boyce explained that there is a national challenge on dementia.

Importance

"You can live well with dementia," he said and stressed the importance of putting the person with dementia at the heart of care, finding out about them and learning about their likes and dislikes.

Mr Boyce said: "There are around 800,000 people in the UK with some form of dementia and this will soon be more than a million as our population ages.

"The aim is to create dementia-friendly communities where people will be aware of and understand more so that people with dementia and their carers can be encouraged to seek help. People with dementia should feel included in their community, gain more independence and have more choices."

Councillor Alan Pearson thanked him for the briefing, saying it had been an excellent session. He had been keen to learn more about how dementia is an umbrella term, covering Alzheimer's Disease which accounts for around 70 per cent of sufferers, followed by the next largest group, the 10 per cent affected by vascular dementia.

Councillor Pearson said: "You don't have to be an expert to become a dementia friend, but the prospect of helping people with a few simple steps such as showing them you care by wearing a dementia friends badge and that you may be able to help a neighbour or someone in the supermarket is hugely important."

War memorial is top in poll on Lottery sites

STAFFORDSHIRE'S National Memorial Arboretum has topped a public vote of the favourite places funded by the National Lottery over the last 20 years.

The poll attracted more than 66,000 votes on Facebook. The Arboretum came in ahead of the Eden Project in Cornwall, which was second, and The Beamish Museum in County Durham, third.

People were asked to choose their favourite venues and landmarks and facilities that have benefited from Lottery funding.

The Arboretum at Alrewas, near Lichfield, which has more than 300 memorials, including the striking Armed Forces Memorial, has received £8 million in Lottery funding.

Sarah Montgomery, the Arboretum's managing director, said: "We're truly honoured that the public has chosen us as their favourite place. "

The news comes as organisers celebrated the 20th anniversary this week of the first National Lottery draw on November 19, 1994. Since then players have raised more than £32 billion for more than 430,000 projects across the UK. A further £53 billion has been paid in prizes and more than 3,600 millionaires created.

Chance to win a free pub meal

FAMILIES can enjoy a pre-Christmas meal for free at a Cannock pub.

The Chase Gate, Wolverhampton Road, Wedges Mills, has extended the offer to families who may have to spend time apart over the festive season.

General manager Lynn Gelder said: "Christmas is a time for being with the family.

"If there are any families in Cannock that can't be together on Christmas Day then let us know why and our Fayrie Godmother might wave her magic wand to give them a chance to experience a special day with their family in the run up to Christmas – on us."

Ten deserving families could win. The competition runs until Sunday. To enter, apply at www.fayre-square.com or by going to www.facebook.com/FayreandSquare

Pupils play part in honouring the fallen

A GREAT WYRLEY primary school recreated their own Flanders Fields as a sign of remembrance of Britain's numerous conflicts.

All 376 pupils at Moat Hall Primary School made a paper poppy to be displayed on the school grounds as a visible reminder of those lost at war. Poppies were also sold in school to aid the vital fundraising of the British Legion.

Campaign

Year 5 and 6 students have been studying John McCrae's poem, Flanders Fields, to allow them to learn, reflect and understand the impact of world war.

In addition, a whole school assembly was held linking live to the Tower of London which allowed the children to participate with Discovery Education in their Why Remember? campaign.

"As we move away from the First World War, children find it difficult to engage meaningfully so to commemorate the 100th anniversary this assembly aimed to prompt reflection, dialogue and discussion amongst the children. The poppy has become a symbol of commemoration and this activity will hopefully encourage the children to think about the consequences of war both past, present and future," said Anna Thompson, deputy headteacher.

Meanwhile, students at Staffordshire University Academy in Hednesford also remembered those who have sacrificed their lives.

Members of the British Legion went into the academy to explain to students the reasons for displaying poppies today. They touchingly told the story of the first poppy.

Students were visibly moved by the accounts of soldiers from The First World War and the memories of the brother of a soldier injured in France after the Battle of Dunkirk.

After the assemblies, students gathered outside to place their poppies under one of the new saplings in the school grounds, enabling the whole school to remember the young men and women whose lives have been curtailed by war.

Road closed as lorry stuck under bridge

Drama – police were forced to shut the road after a lorry carrying a shipping container became stuck under the railway bridge

A LORRY carrying a shipping container hit a railway bridge in Rugeley causing delays to train services.

The HGV crashed into the bridge in Colton Road on Thursday shortly before midday. Police closed off the road that runs under the bridge for several hours while investigations took place.

The driver of the lorry was unhurt and the bridge was deemed safe after the smash. However, trains travelling between Manchester and London via Rugeley were delayed.

Staffordshire Police spokeswoman Sarah Davison said: "We were called just after 11.50am to the railway bridge at Colton Road.

"A lorry hit the railway bridge. It was carrying a shipping container. The driver was not injured. We had to close the road for a time."

Virgin Trains spokesman Damien Henderson said the firm apologised to anyone delayed as a result of the incident. He said: "Due to the bridge strike at Rugeley a number of our southbound trains between Manchester and London were delayed.

"We would like to apologise to any customers affected by this disruption."

Mr Henderson said trains travelling over the bridge were having to travel at a reduced speed because of the crash.

One woman, who heard the crash but did not want to be named, said the crash itself made a loud bang. She said: "I heard this loud bang and saw that the lorry had got stuck under the bridge. I'm glad the driver is not hurt."

Investigations have found that the shipping container at the back of the lorry got stuck under the bridge in the crash. The crash happened just outside The Yorkshire Man pub.

Girl group album is a surefire Bette

Reviews by Leon Burakowski

BETTE Midler has long been the queen of cabaret-style entertainment with her blend of ballads, show tunes and wicked sense of humour.

To most under-30s she is probably best known as the funniest of the three witches in Disney's Halloween favourite Hocus Pocus.

Now she's back with her tribute to girl group pop, from the 1930s to 90s. It's The Girls is a classy project with Bette providing her own backing vocals, though she enlists the queen of backing singers Darlene Love to duet on The Crystals' He's Sure The Boy I Love. Be My Baby, One Fine Day and Tell Him stick close to the originals.

Elsewhere she gives the songs an interesting twist, introducing a hint of her home state of Hawaii to Mr Sandman and brilliantly slowing Martha and the Vandellas' Come And Get These Memories to a poignant ballad. A stripped back, piano-led version of TLC's Waterfalls packs an emotional punch and she even pulls off a banjo-picking hillbilly version of You Can't Hurry Love. The album ends in fine vintage style with the Dixieland jazz of It's The Girl.

Bette Midler begins her first UK tour in 35 years at the Barclaycard Arena in Birmingham on July 9.

The combined CD/DVD package Whitney Houston Live: Her Greatest Performances combines 16 tracks plus 18 video performances, starting with her teenaged debut singing Home on The Merv Griffin TV show in 1983, via her Super Bowl performance of The Star Spangled Banner in '91 to her emotional I Didn't Know My Own Strength on The Oprah Winfrey Show in 2009. She died in 2012, aged only 48.

Whitney Houston — many of her famous live performances on a new album

Bette Midler — the singer and comedienne pays tribute to girl groups

As a live album, this doesn't hang together as well as a single concert performance but Whitney fans may enjoy the overview of her career.

Whitney Houston also appears on Barry Manilow album My Dream Duets in which Barry sings with a lot of very famous but very dead stars of popular music. It may have been a dream come true for Manilow to duet with Judy Garland, Sammy Davis Jr, Dusty Springfield, Louis Armstrong, etc. I think it is more of a nightmare.

These are not true duets with musical to-and-fro between the artists, they are — however expertly done — slice and splice jobs. It's a bad concept and a creative cul-de-sac for an artist who is surely talented enough to create music without technically resurrecting artists who have no say in the matter. A sample is one thing but to tamper with these artists' music within the genres in which they excelled is questionable.

Moody dance anthems come with an Ibiza twist from synth pop veterans Erasure on new album The Violet Flame. The duo celebrate nearly 30 years of hits at a sold-out Wolverhampton Civic Hall on Saturday.

Young singer-songwriter James Page, under stage name Sivu, creates a potent atmosphere on his debut album Something On High. It's a blend of tremulous vocals and haunted soundscapes with songs of isolation and yearning. Listen if you like London Grammar or Wild Beasts. He will be supporting Bombay Bicycle Club at Wolverhampton Civic on December 10.

HAVERGAL CE PRIMARY ACADEMY

The rural village school with big ideas and exciting new opportunities.

Although a hidden gem we have great transport links just being off J11, M6 and J1, M54 this makes us a great school for those parents who have to travel to work. Being a small school we are able to deliver that happy, friendly, caring environment while meeting the needs of your child through a rich and varied curriculum.

As a church school we work closely with our community and have great support from our forward thinking strategic partnership with The Church of England Central Education Trust who sponsor our academy.

We truly believe that working with parents is essential to foster an open relationship between home and school.

But don't take our word for it, just contact the school for an appointment and further details.

Do you know a child who enjoys singing?

Lichfield Cathedral and the Cathedral School will once again host a special choral experience, when children from across the region can find out what it's like to be a chorister.

The Be a Chorister for a Day workshop takes place on Saturday 10 January and is open to boys aged from 6 to 11 and girls aged between 9 and 13 years. Places are free, but limited, so call 01543 306014 to register today.

Since 2010, over 300 boys and girls have taken part in these workshops, giving them the chance to sing sacred choral music. In addition to vocal training, the day includes sport activities and the chance to quiz the current choristers about life in the Cathedral Close. Each workshop finishes with the children taking part in Choral Evensong in Lichfield Cathedral where parents are very welcome to listen to their beautiful singing.

Open to Boys aged 6-11 and Girls aged 9-13

MOAT HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

Moat Hall continues to go from strength to strength. Outstanding teaching in early years is built upon throughout the school with an exciting curriculum, extra support for children if necessary, and a range of after school clubs ranging from engineering to boxercise.

There is an emphasis on offering an educational approach which enables the children to have opportunities to participate in physical education, art, music as well as the core subjects of maths, english and science.

Our nursery was judged by Ofsted as having made outstanding progress in meeting the learning needs of children and accelerating their progress.

Activities develop their early writing, reading and counting skills and thoroughly prepare them for life in our Reception classes and enable any specific learning difficulties to be identified beforehand.

Nursery and Reception also have their own outdoor learning environment which they can access throughout the day whatever the weather!

Highfields Primary School

A small and friendly school proud to put the children in the centre of everything we do.

When we asked our parents what we do well, these are some of the replies:

"There is a lovely community atmosphere at the school and we as a family feel part of the school family"

"Highfields is a great little school. I am proud that my children attend this school. They are happy, learning and have great fun"

"I love the choir, the fact they are learning about music, reading, art and French"

"You treat each child as an individual and inspire!"

"Children appear to feel welcomed and secure. My child has progressed extremely well since starting school and enjoys it."

Ironkids wanted for event

A junior Iron Man-style event is being planned for Staffordshire to encourage young people to stay fit.

On-line applications are being sought for Ironkids which will see them run between 500 metres and 2.5 kilometres.

It is aimed at three to 14 year-olds and each entrant will receive a medal and commemorative t-shirt.

Details are still to be confirmed but is due to take place in June next year.

For more details about the event visit the www.ironkids.co.uk website.

Bursar told by court to repay £22k from fiddle

A MOTHER OF TWO from Burntwood who was jailed after fiddling more than £26,000 from three schools has been ordered by a judge to repay almost all the cash.

School bursar Tracy Taylor wrote out cheques for herself and used a school payment card to get petrol.

She also falsely claimed overtime. The frauds, at Stafford Sports College, The Chetwynd Centre and Sir Graham Balfour School, all in Stafford, went on for more than six years until being spotted by a county council auditor.

By Marion Brennan

Taylor, aged 41, of Lebanon Grove, was jailed for five months in September after admitting a total of seven charges of fraud.

In a proceeds of crime hearing at Stafford Crown Court she was ordered to repay £22,970 within the next six months.

Suspicious

In the previous case, also held at Stafford, the court heard that Taylor was a senior finance officer at Stafford Sports College, before being promoted to bursar, while also carrying out part-time roles at the Chetwynd Centre and Sir Graham Balfour School, where she later became full-time bursar.

Miss Fiona Cortese, prosecuting, said a county council audit last year revealed a number of suspicious transactions involving cheques with no supporting documentation, which were reported to the head of Stafford Sports College.

A total of 66 transactions, each for £300 in cash made payable to Taylor and totalling £19,800, had been made for 'postage' between May 2008 and January 2013.

Another £2,700 had been booked in as 'running costs', and a £300 cheque marked as 'cancelled' had been cashed by Taylor.

She also used the college's account to get £70 worth of petrol for her private vehicle.

The Chetwynd Centre was cheated out of £500, which Taylor wrote down as 'postage'.

In November last year, Taylor left the college to become full-time bursar at Sir Graham Balfour School.

While working for the school, Taylor fraudulently claimed £2,392 in overtime payments between April 2013 and January this year and had £352 worth of petrol on the school's account in 10 illicit transactions.

Mr Paul Lamb, defending, said the catalyst for Taylor's offending was her husband being made redundant and the deaths of her sister and father.

She was under a great deal of emotional and financial pressure," he said.

"She can't fully explain why she carried out these offences.

"She knew she was in a position to do it.

"It became a habit, she wasn't living an extravagant lifestyle."

Taylor was warned that she faces an extra year in prison if she fails to pay the money back in the given time.

More than 600 make careers fair a massive success

A career evening organised by Chase Terrace Technology College saw a record number of visitors attend.

The information event was held on November 13 at the college on Bridge Cross Road in Burntwood.

Organisers were overwhelmed by the success of the event which saw more than 600 visitors queuing to speak with employers, universities and voluntary organisations.

Visitors aged 15-19 had the chance to discuss their future education and employment options with more than 60 national and local companies.

Julie Poppleton head of information advice and guidance said: "I feel very passionately and strongly about young people and their parents having access to speak one to one with professionals, employers and providers. The labour market is constantly changing and is it vital that young people are aware of the full range of opportunities that are available to them especially now they have to remain in education until they are 18. It also informs people about what employers are looking for in terms of entry requirements, not just the academic requirements but those essential life and employability skills."

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

The market has all you need including festive decorations

Market has Christmas wrapped up

Make your home awash with flowers, bought from Stafford Market this festive season

The indoor market is in the heart of the town next to the Guildhall

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

FESTIVE shoppers have everything they need for Christmas all under one roof at Stafford's Indoor Market.

Decorations, gifts for family and friends and even Christmas dinner with all the trimmings, it is fair to say we have Christmas all wrapped up.

Struggling to think of the perfect present for your loved ones? Browse through the market for a host of fantastic alternative gift ideas from vintage jewellery to vinyl records.

There are retro coats, books, antiques, and quality fragrances as well as guitars, figurines, DIY products, sewing and knitting items, and footwear.

And don't forget a range of special treats for much-loved pets.

In fact there really is something for everyone at Stafford Market. That includes a range of services that can come in handy for Christmas such as having your party dress altered or shoes re-heeled. And to look your best for the festive season we even have a hairdressers.

It's not just fantastic quality products on offer, but a fantastic range of services at great value.

So design your Christmas menu around our quality turkeys, beef, lamb, pigs in blankets and meat hampers, with award winning cheeses, pork pies and cooked meats and great quality local fruit and vegetables.

Entertainment

Stafford Market can be found in the heart of the town centre, next to the Guildhall Shopping Centre in Crabbery Street.

From Thursday December 4, the market will be open seven days a week from 9am to 5pm Monday to Saturday and 10am to 4pm on Sundays including Christmas Eve where they are open until 4.30pm for all those last minute shoppers.

And if you are worried about the youngsters getting bored while you shop for then on the Saturdays in December the Market has a range of entertainment for the whole family.

On the 6th there will be a fun filled children's treasure hunt with prizes for those who can follow the clues around the market. On the second Saturday, children can have their faces painted for free and create their own sand art Christmas pictures.

Finally, on the last Saturday before Christmas (the 20th), Santa and Rodney the Reindeer will be stopping by the market on their sleigh to meet families and friends and listen to those last minute Christmas wishes.

Spice is nice at town newcomer

Chef Shahin Uddin with guests Alan Pearson, chairman of Cannock Chase District Council, and his wife Shirley Pearson

The building was refurbished following its closure as a Chinese restaurant

Some features of the old Pig & Bell are evident at the newly opened Spice of Rugeley

EATING OUT

NINETY six people attended its opening and a steady stream of diners have ventured there since. Welcome to the new restaurant on the block in Rugeley.

Spice of Rugeley was officially launched two weeks ago, with Cannock Chase Council chairman Alan Pearson among the guests.

Housed in the former Pig & Bell pub in Market Street, it took around a month to refit the premises following its closure as a Chinese restaurant.

Owner Shamim Uddin has taken on the family-run business, which caters for up to 50 diners, including private parties, and employs 10 staff.

It's a welcoming place, easily found opposite Morrisons, and with parking available. It is clear to see that the premises was once a pub, the former bar area in particular being a feature, but it is well set out for its new venture.

On entering, staff are quick to seat diners and attend to their needs. Traditional Indian and Bangladeshi food is served and there is also a Dubai influence. The menu is colourful, well-laid out and easy to peruse and among the delights served are shatkora and achari dishes and tropical baltis.

Poppadoms as ever whetted the appetite, but my partner and I were also treated to a mix of starters comprising onion bhajis, samosas, seekh kebabs, tandoori chicken wings and lamb tikka that have not yet found their way on to the menu. Our mains were makhani chicken for the other half and a bengal fish khazana for Yours Truly, accompanied by lemon rice.

We declined the lure of a special chef-made dessert simply because of how much we'd already eaten. My fish dish proved especially spicy, and unexpectedly so, even from the first bite, the only minor quibble being the naan bread being slightly overcooked.

But, for spicy food lovers in particular, the restaurant clearly lives up to its name and is well worth a visit.

Spice of Rugeley is open seven days a week, from 5.30pm. Call 01889 584481 or 358415.

Boo and owner prepare for Kennel Club challenge

NICOLA Garrett and her dog, from Rugeley, have qualified for the prestigious Kennel Club Olympia Agility Stakes finals in London.

Nicola, aged 38, qualified for the Kennel Club Olympia Agility Stakes finals, from December 18 to 22, as part of the London International Horse Show, with her three-year-old Border Collie, Boo. Nicola has competed in agility for more than 25 years.

By Simon Stone

She has previously won at Crufts three times and has a gold and two bronze medals from the world agility championships.

She said: "I'm very excited about getting to Olympia this year and can't wait to compete with Boo."

Competing

The Kennel Club Olympia Agility Stakes will see dogs and their owners compete in five finals, in the small, medium, large senior, large novice and ABC categories.

The country's most talented dogs and handlers have been competing in qualifying heats at agility shows across the country in an attempt to gain a place in the finals.

Caroline Kisko, Kennel Club secretary, said: "Olympia offers handlers the chance to compete in front of an audience of up to ten thousand noisy supporters, giving them a fantastic opportunity to showcase agility to a new audience, as well as the chance to win at the most prestigious agility event of the year.

"Congratulations to Nicola and Boo for making it to the prestigious finals."

Meanwhile, nearly 2,000 dogs from 26 breeds will be descending on Stafford on Saturday, December 6 as the British Utility Breeds Association (BUBA) holds its 43rd Championship Dog Show at Staffordshire County Showground.

Dogs of all shapes and sizes from across the country will compete for the Best in Show prize, and for the chance to qualify for Crufts, in Birmingham, next March.

Gift boxes for deprived youngsters

A PROJECT to give Christmas presents to underprivileged children in poor countries has got under way at Chase View Primary School.

The annual Operation Christmas Child scheme involves children gathering shoeboxes full of gifts and preparing them for filling and shipping.

Pupils at Chase View are being encouraged to gather items which they could send off to help people living in countries such as Rwanda and Belarus.

Three Wishes in Rugeley and Tesco have made generous donations to our Operation Christmas Child shoebox appeal following letters sent to local businesses by pupils asking for help to provide gifts.

The items have included small soft toys, stationery, scarves, hats and gloves, jewellery, and toiletries.

Almshouses trustee call

THE Birch, Samson & Littleton United Charities have a vacancy for an almshouse trustee.

Trustees give their time voluntarily at quarterly meetings with the aim of maintaining and improving the historic cottages in Armitage, Brereton, and Rugeley. Call 01889 576107 or 07790 895387 or email sianbrockhurst@hotmail.com for details.

Delight as village pub wins award

A VILLAGE pub is celebrating being 'highly commended' in the Enjoy Staffordshire Tourism Awards.

The Olde Peculiar in Handsacre with Armitage was entered in the Tourism Pub of the Year which judged pubs on their range of beers, wines, spirits and guest ales and the locally produced food offered.

The annual awards ceremony at the National Memorial Arboretum recognises the best in tourism within the county.

The Olde Peculiar impressed judges with its real ale and homemade food and the quizzes and other fundraisers it holds for charity. Owner Corinne O'Donnell said of the award: "We are absolutely delighted."

The pub also provides bed and breakfast, and self-catering accommodation.

Families to experience stable trail

FAMILIES are invited to experience the real magic of Christmas during a stable trail in Rugeley.

Children will be able to travel back in time to Bethlehem during the free guided journey on Saturday, December 13.

Tours are taking place at St Augustine's Church, in Station Road, between 10am and midday and from 2 to 4pm, starting in the church hall.

They are open to people of all ages, and organisers say that they will be bigger and better than ever before.

Refreshments will be served, and there will be Christmas crafts and activities.

Details are available from Sue Whitehouse on 01889 800939 or the parish office on 01889 574157 or at staugustinesrugeley@o2.co.uk

Fireworks at power station

RUGELEY Power Station is to hold a fireworks event tomorrow.

The musical display, which starts at 8pm, is a private function for ticket holders only. Bosses at the site say that it will last up to 30 minutes.

Station manager David Leich said: "We apologise for any noise or inconvenience that this may cause to residents."

Two men jailed over £60m drug smuggling plot

TWO men involved in a smuggling plot which saw £60 million worth of drugs brought into the UK have been jailed.

The pair, who are from Cheslyn Hay and Walsall, were among five put behind bars following a major nationwide and international investigation into the importation of cannabis, amphetamines and MDMA – the main constituent of ecstasy – which saw arrests take place throughout the West Midlands region as well as in The Netherlands. The drugs were brought into the UK from the Netherlands using legitimate hauliers.

All of the hauliers were unaware of the loads they were carrying before the drugs were taken to haulage yards in the Midlands, including one at Walsall, where the parcels were separated and subsequently collected by organised crime groups from around the UK. Amphetamines that were later seized by police had been disguised as cartons of takeaway food.

Richard Dale, aged 51, from Maybrook Industrial Estate, Walsall, and Peter Hillback, 42, from Charles Close, Cheslyn Hay, were both jailed at Birmingham Crown Court for their role in the operation.

The court was told that the operation was co-ordinated from a small office on a farm in the Kempsey area of Worcestershire.

Police launched their investigation into the racket in July 2013.

Peter Hillback, aged 42, from Cheslyn Hay was jailed for 14 years and four months

Illegal

It was led by the Serious and Organised Crime Unit of Warwickshire Police and West Mercia Police, and saw a total of £13.5 million worth of drugs seized.

The haul included more than 1,000kg of cannabis, 107kg of MDMA and 64kg of amphetamines. In terms of street value, it is one of the biggest investigations Warwickshire Police and West Mercia Police have ever conducted into the illegal drugs trade, the court was told. Six other UK police forces, the National Crime Agency and Dutch and German authorities were also involved in bringing the men to justice.

Dale was jailed for 12 years for conspiracy to import class A drugs, conspiracy to import class B drugs, conspiracy to supply MDMA, conspiracy to supply amphetamine and conspiracy to supply cannabis.

He had denied all of the charges but was found guilty after a trial in September at Birmingham Crown Court. Hillback pleaded guilty to the same charges and was sentenced to 14 years and four months in prison. Three other men pleaded guilty to the same charges.

Robert Whitehouse, 68, from Dusthouse Lane, Finstall, Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, was sentenced to 22 years and six months in prison. Robert Scott, 67, from Broughton Hackett, Worcester, and the Dutch connection, Jacobus Martinus Samson, 64, from Beek Ubbergen, Netherlands, were both jailed for 20 years. Two other men – Nigel Powell, 52, from Hom Green, Ross on Wye, and Stephen Jones, 54, from Broad Street, Ross on Wye – will be sentenced on December 18 for their roles in the plot.

Atlantis
(BBC1, 8.15pm)

Rather like the recent run of Doctor Who, at first glance it may appear that Atlantis is a classic teatime show that has somehow been shoehorned into a post-8pm slot by mistake. However, Sarah Parish, who plays the scheming Pasiphae, recently revealed that the makers knew the second series would be airing at a later time, and took the opportunity to make the new run a little darker. So, consider yourself forewarned as this week Ariadne is formally crowned Queen, but has more than just ruling a battle-scarred city to worry about, especially with Pasiphae still at large. Meanwhile, Jason faces a struggle for his own as he fights for glory on the tournament ground. Jack Donnelly, Aiysha Hart and Mark Addy star.

Jimmy Carr

Jimmy Carr: Laughing & Joking
(Channel 4, 10pm)

You may be surprised to know that there's a lot more to Jimmy Carr than a silly laugh and borderline offensive humour. Plenty more. Credit where credit is due after all: this man is a comedy genius with writing skills to boot – he's even penned material for Lily Savage, Bo Selecta! and Meet Ricky Gervais before now. However, for those who are more than familiar with Jimmy's work and aren't satisfied with his year-round tours and television efforts in that they're just not enough to satisfy your cravings, you'll no doubt be pleased to see that he's back on our screens tonight as, filmed in November of last year at London's Hammersmith Apollo, the award-winning funnyman performs his eighth live show.

9.00 Remember Me. Care worker Hannah goes to visit Tom in hospital and is shocked to hear he has escaped, so detective Rob Fairholme opens a missing persons investigation. Hannah pleads with him to search in Scarborough, haunted by the old folk songs she found in the pensioner's house, but the detective isn't convinced by her hunch and continues his search closer to home. Visiting Tom's home, he finds the ripped photo of the man as a boy - as well as documents revealing he once had a wife who was killed in tragic circumstances. Meanwhile, the post-mortem on social worker Alison Denning proves inconclusive – but oddly, it does show that the dead woman had water in her lungs.

FILM CHOICES

MONDAY
The National Tree, Channel 5, 3.15pm
A loving father plants a tree the day his son is born. Years later, when the boy is a teenager, it is selected to be the national Christmas tree, so father and son embark on a life-changing journey across the country to deliver it for replanting at the White House. Drama, starring Andrew McCarthy and Evan Williams. (2009)

TUESDAY
Public Enemies, ITV, 10.40pm
Fact-based crime drama following the last years of John Dillinger, whose run of bank robberies and daring prison escapes in the 1930s make him both America's most wanted criminal and a hero to a public struggling through the Depression. His career is soon to be cut short by the birth of the FBI, which assigns its most celebrated agent to bring him to justice. Directed by Michael Mann and starring Johnny Depp, Christian Bale and Marion Cotillard. (2009)

We Own the Night, Friday, ITV, 11.15pm

WEDNESDAY
The 13th Warrior, BBC1, 12.10am
A disgraced nobleman exiled from his Baghdad home joins forces with Norse warriors at the close of the first millennium, and ends up battling seemingly invincible attackers during an epic journey. Action adventure adapted from the novel Eaters of the Dead by Michael Crichton, starring Antonio Banderas, Diane Venora, Dennis Storhi, Vladimir Kulich and Omar Sharif. (1999)

THURSDAY
Die Another Day, ITV, 10.40pm
James Bond is suspended from duty after being taken hostage in North Korea, but goes against orders to track down those who betrayed him. During the pursuit of the terrorist he was investigating before his capture, he discovers a connection with a British billionaire who has constructed a devastating orbital weapon. Spy adventure, starring Pierce Brosnan. (2002)

FRIDAY
We Own the Night, ITV, 11.15pm
The manager of a New York nightclub is caught between two worlds – while his brother and father are both highly respected police officers, most of his clientele are gangsters. Despite his best efforts not to get involved, he is forced to choose sides when gang violence escalates and his sibling is targeted by a hitman. Crime drama, starring Joaquin Phoenix, Mark Wahlberg and Robert Duvall. (2007)

PICK OF THE WEEK

New series proves to be a breeze for Richard

Fashion may come and go, but one constant in the UK is our obsession with the weather. Maybe it's the fact that as an island so small we don't generate our own weather systems but have to make do with cast-offs from other countries.

In a new series, Richard Hammond will be revealing the hidden secrets at the heart of some of the world's most extreme weather, experiencing extraordinary phenomena first-hand.

Okay, some of the dialogue may be a little redundant, such as "Wherever you live on the planet, weather shapes your world."

That aside, Hammond will be 'stripping weather back to its basics,' and in this wind-centric opener he explains how wind begins.

He kicks things off with another spot of slightly awkward dialogue: "There is a powerful, invisible force that moves around us, almost unnoticed…"

Hmmm. While the script could have done with more levity in the Top Gear vein, WWWRH excels in the visuals department, whether it's glorious high definition cloudscapes or obligatory shots of devastation.

There are some scenes which look like a mash up of Twister and The Dark Knight as Hammond attempts to measure the speed of a tornado.

His journey starts in New Hampshire, USA.

You might think of the region as a world of sunshine, russet leaves in the autumn and moneyed Americans enjoying expensive past times.

However, the state can also look like something from the Arctic as Hammond discovers when he braves temperatures of -45C on top of Mount Washington.

On April 12, 1934, the local weather station measured one of the fastest wind speeds ever recorded on land: 231mph.

Remarkably, winds in the area hit hurricane force more than 100 days in the year.

Going outside is not advisable unless you're covered from head to toe in well insulated protective gear. And don't forget your goggles, unless you want frozen eyeballs.

Given the fact a light wind on your face measures around 5mph; 15mph is enough to turn an umbrella inside out; 45mph can wreck a garden fence, and 55mph can bring a shed down, the sight of Hammond in 65 to 85mph winds is enough to make you put an extra bar on the fire.

A good job there's subtitles as our host struggles to get his words out. Just a pity he doesn't tie his hat on.

Later, there's an experiment to create a fire whirlwind, and a tense moment when it looks like a pricey camera may have been lost in the vertical inferno.

Clearly a glutton for punishment, Richard decides to stand in the middle of a man-made tornado at the 'WindEEE' Research Institute in Canada. It's the only place on Earth which can duplicate the dynamics of a tornado.

Little wonder Hammond gets goosebumps, and not just because he's a bit chilly.

If this leaves you hungry for more, don't miss next week's edition when 'Hamster' attempts to capture a cloud in the hope of seeing how much it weighs. Yes, really.

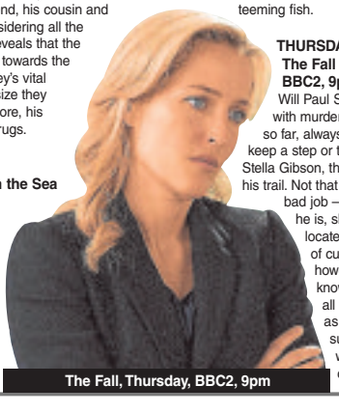
Wild Weather with Richard Hammond, Monday, BBC1, 9pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY
The British Property Boom
Channel 4, 8pm
House prices have been rising at record speeds around the UK, and naturally that has far-reaching effects for many of us. This week's show investigates the impact on buyers and sellers, with first-time buyers such as Dionne used as an example of how hard it can be to get on the property ladder. She faces having to ask her retired mother, Denise, to sell the family home to stand a chance of buying her own home. We also meet Barbara, a Hackney resident who has been priced out of the area where she was born. Plus, there's a look at some of the overseas buyers purchasing investment flats in the capital that could otherwise have been snapped up by locals. And if you're wondering what the smallest house on the market in London will cost, then brace yourselves. A property measuring just six feet wide is on the market for a whopping £235,000.

TUESDAY
Autopsy: The Last Hours of Elvis Presley
Channel 5, 9pm
Dr Richard Shepherd has been linked to some of the most iconic celebrities in history – it's just a shame that none of them are alive to enjoy his company. The forensic pathologist is now famous for his in-depth televised autopsies in which he analyses the untimely deaths of famous folk notorious for their often self-inflicted ill health. Tonight, as the title suggests, he kicks of this new series by focusing on Elvis Presley. Robert picks through the facts surrounding the singer's demise at his Memphis home Graceland in August 1977, using accounts from his best friend, his cousin and his private nurse, as well as considering all the medical facts. The programme reveals that the post-mortem report showed that towards the end of his life, nearly all of Presley's vital organs were almost double the size they should have been, and what's more, his system was full of prescription drugs.

WEDNESDAY
Living on the Edge: Blood in the Sea
Channel 5, 7pm
New series. Anthropologist and adventurer Chris Terrill travels to the world's most extreme environments to find out how and why people live in the grip of nature at its harshest. In the first edition, he heads to Mauritania to spend time with fishermen who work the rich but dangerous waters off the north-west coast of Africa. Travelling from Nouadhibou in the north to the capital Nouakchott in the south, Chris and his interpreter Ahmed Taleb witness the sight of a thousand boats fighting to get through the violent surf as it breaks on to the beaches and also discover a secret paradise where the desert meets the sea and millions of birds feed on the teeming fish.



The Fall, Thursday, BBC2, 9pm

THURSDAY
The Fall
BBC2, 9pm
Will Paul Spector get away with murder? He has done so far, always managing to keep a step or two ahead of Stella Gibson, the detective on his trail. Not that she's doing a bad job – she knows who he is, she just can't locate this slipperiest of customers. He, however, seems to know where she is all the time – and as a result, Gibson suspects he's witnessed her confrontation with Burns in her hotel room. But how will Burns react when she tells him? As if the idea of Spector keeping tabs on her isn't disturbing enough, she then realises he's been visiting one of his surviving victims in hospital – but this fact allows her to finally set up a surveillance operation on him. But the need to find the evidence that will bring about Spector's arrest intensifies when a body matching the description of Rose Stagg is discovered.

FRIDAY
The Martin Lewis Money Show
ITV, 8pm
For a man who's become synonymous with great money saving ideas, you'd think Martin Lewis would be on a par with some of the cash-hungry wannabes in The Apprentice, but not a bit of it. "I certainly don't preach about how to make money; that's not really my thing at all, or my passion to be honest," he explains. "I still don't consider myself to be an entrepreneur. I'm somebody who set up a website and I consider myself to be a journalist and consumer campaigner." This week, Martin helps customers reclaim lost cash after switching energy suppliers. He also reveals how companies don't have to give this money back unless they are asked. Plus, the eponymous host reveals how to buy high-street fashion abroad, take a budget flight back to the UK and still make a saving.

Meriva has appeal for family car purchasers

By Anthony Martyn

It used to be so difficult. You wanted a vehicle with decent economy that could do the family duties, yet had something about it when you pressed the throttle pedal. Trying to square those requirements for a reasonable budget could tie even the most knowledgeable car enthusiast in knots.

These days things are a whole lot easier. If you want to know how easy, just go to a Vauxhall dealer and cajole them into lending you a Meriva 1.6 CDTi diesel. It's a car that's been steadily improved over the course of its lifetime, but replacing the old 1.7-litre diesel lump with a smaller but more modern, powerful and economical engine has given this particular Meriva real appeal for family buyers.

Developing a healthy 136PS, this Euro6-compliant motor serves up a supersized 320Nm of torque at just 2,000rpm, which lends it a hugely muscular feel. In fact this Meriva will get to 62mph in just 9.9 seconds and Vauxhall has worked at improving the quality of the six-speed manual gearshift so that changes are slicker and gear engagement more reassuring.

Refinement at speed is a notable strong point, with the engine only really becoming vocal at around 4,000rpm, at which point you will have probably upshifted anyway.

This facelifted second generation Meriva gets a revised grille, but the chrome accents that frame the front fog lamps aren't so obvious. The headlights now feature an 'eagle-eye' graphic. For the first time, LED daytime running lights and LED tail lights are available as an option. If you're in the mood to tick options boxes, you can also pay extra for some 18-inch alloy wheels.

The Meriva still differentiates itself from its many rivals via its rear-hinged back doors. The advantage of this design comes when entering and exiting the vehicle as the doors open to an angle of almost 90 degrees and you can step straight out unhindered.

It also helps parents when they're strapping the kids in or fitting child car seats because there's no door in the way to manoeuvre around.

Plusher

The interior itself is based around the FlexSpace seating system which allows the rear seats to fold down and slide individually.

Splitting the cabin on the plusher models is the FlexRail, a pair of metal runners between the front seats that various modular storage bins and arm-rests can be clipped to and slid along.

It's all very clever but those who have a thing for plastics quality might feel that some parts of the Meriva's cabin – especially rearwards from the front seats – show clear signs of cost-cutting.

Still, that's the case with many of its rivals.

Whereas you used to have legions of trim level variations to wade through, with this 1.6-litre CDTi, things are more straightforward. You either pay just over £19,000 and buy the S trim or you pay just over £21,000 and bag yourself the SE specification.

The S isn't badly finished with an ESP-plus electronic stability control system, twin front airbags, an electric parking brake, a CD/MP3 CD player/stereo radio with USB and AUX-in socket, electric front windows, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors, remote central deadlocking and front side airbags.

Go for the up-spec SE version and you'll find a panoramic glass sunroof, 17-inch alloy wheels, folding seatback trays and under-seat drawers, a trip computer, cruise control, curtain airbags, leather trim for the steering wheel and gear shifter and heating for both the seats and the wheel.

Calculations

There are many MPV or SUV owners who have looked at the cost of petrol and diesel derivatives of the same car, done the calculations and decided that based on the amount of miles they do, they'd never justify the additional expense of the diesel variant.

So they buy the petrol model and soon come to realise that the torque deficit you get with entry-level petrol engines requires you to flog them really hard to make progress. They look at their economy figures and then realise the error of their ways. They should have bought a car like this Meriva 1.6 CDTi.

Emissions are also kept well in check at just 116g/km which, like the economy figure, is even better than the lowly 1.3-litre CDTi diesel engine you can also have fitted in your Meriva.

Residual values ought to be strong as well, with many buyers being attracted to the Meriva range's best and most economical powerplant.

Tesla now in the Midlands

Electric car maker Tesla continues its expansion in the UK with the launch of a new West Midlands-based store and six 'Supercharger' recharging points.

A five-minute drive from A45 and A38, the Tesla Birmingham retail and service centre in Digbeth is the firm's fourth UK store.

By the end of 2014, customers will be able to visit Tesla stores and service centres across the country. The company is currently recruiting for upcoming sales and service facilities in Manchester, Bristol, Newcastle and Edinburgh.

The company also continues to expand its charging network, with six Supercharging sites now open.

In London, three new Supercharging sites at Canary Wharf, Tower Bridge and Westfield White City add to locations at Portman Square and Royal Victoria Docks.

As well as Tesla's existing site in Birmingham, the company has added Reading, Bristol and Edinburgh to its network. Within the next six months, the company claims Model S drivers will be able to drive the length of the UK relying only on Superchargers.

Commenting on the company's progress, Georg Ell, Tesla's country director for the UK and Ireland, said: "We are working on additional London locations with new sites to be announced shortly. Our plan for routes around the UK is also under way and we now have four locations outside of the capital."

Super luxury car returns

It may have disappeared with a whimper but Mercedes has announced it's reintroducing its super-luxury Maybach nameplate next year.

In the face of modest sales and stiff competition from the likes of Bentley and Rolls-Royce, Mercedes' first attempt at reintroducing the premium historic marque wasn't the success the German firm had hoped for. This time around, and helped by a newer, more accomplished base model S-Class platform to work with, Mercedes is promising levels of luxury and performance not seen from the brand for some time.

Now positioned as a sub-brand and no longer a standalone marque, industry insiders are expecting Mercedes to roll out extra long wheelbase versions of the S-Class reminiscent of the firm's iconic Pullman variants from the past.

There's no word yet on price, but with the regular range-topping S-Class easily breaking the £100,000 barrier, don't expect too much change from twice that once you've factored in the all-important cost options.

More details – and the all-important car – are expected to be revealed later this year ahead of a 2015 launch.

Convertible is practical and good day-to-day

By Bob Hickman

Who can doubt that over the last few years the Audi car company has moved onwards in huge leaps and bounds and been challenging other German car manufacturers to be placed as the Number 1 premium car manufacturer.

The range has grown dramatically to over 40 derivatives of the vehicle that carry the fourcircular rings as its logo. With the A3, Audi has effectively invented the small compact segment and with huge sales in the UK alone, it was only a matter of time before a further derivative arrived and the cabriolet appeared on the scene.

As with all manufacturers, to stand still is to commit suicide and now the A3 has received a further makeover to enhance its already pleasant and appealing features. Audi already has the A5 and TT Roadster in its stable but with the A3 it now has a compact four seater convertible. It gives a sporty driving experience that is also functional for everyday use. It also enables accessibility for those whose budgets may not extent to the somewhat larger A5 or the space restricted TT.

The designers have looked carefully at the A3 and the new version is as you would expect slightly larger than the vehicle it replaces and this translates in to more passenger space and a little bit more possible practicality in the interior. Audi has appeared to have adopted the philosophy of if something is not broken then let's not try and repair it and there is a huge similarity between the previous vehicle and the new incumbent.

There is a mixture from the part's bin as is understandable and the vehicle now has a longer bodywork that has changed quite considerably at the rear, behind the roof section. One noticeable change is the implementation of the high level brake lights that are now on the leading edge of the boot lid. One thing that Audi did look carefully at with the original A3, and this has been continued with the new vehicle, is its handling and its loss of rigidity due to the roof being removed. The engineers have strengthened the A pillars, sills, bulkhead and the floor, by the utilization of high tensile steel and because these features are low in the vehicle the centre of gravity remains lower and this enhances the handling dynamics.

Roof

With the A3 Audi has continued with the use of canvas for the roof, avoiding the tin top versions. The thermal and acoustics features of this fabric roof are just as good as being in a conventional saloon and it is somewhat difficult to differentiate between driving a soft top and a hard one. This is down to the insulation and also the closeness of the fit and the quality of the machines utilised. The roof folds in to an area all of its own that does sadly encroach slightly in to the boot space as it needs a device to lower a section of the boot so as not to crush articles when it's used. That having been said the boot is reasonably generous and the opening aperture is narrow but it makes up for this by being wide. One feature with the roof that is quite incredible and during our test period I actually did try it out due to the inclement weather, is the facility to put the roof back in to place whilst travelling at up to 30 mph. I was pessimistic that this might work and was concerned that with the roof raised it would give the appearance of a sail and could possibly be damaged. But at 20 mph it worked effectively and we were cocooned in warmth and avoided the heavy rain storm that developed.

Audi has continued with their tradition of badging them as a Standard, Sport and S-line. The choice of engines is betwixt petrol and diesel with a diminutive 1.2 TFi producing 105 bhp as the entry level and my particular test vehicle the Sport, was equipped with the 2-litre 140 bhp diesel. This produces a low 110 kgs of CO2 which is going to put it in to the lower category for excise duty.

The performance from the extremely pleasant 2-litre diesel was sufficient to give a potential top speed of 139 mph; the 0-60 gallop could be achieved in marginally under 9 seconds. Audi claim 67.3 mpg on the combined cycle and during my week with the vehicle and over 500 miles, I managed to achieve 50.7 mpg according to the computer fitted.

From an ownership, driving perspective the A3 had a sharp steering and felt dynamically secure in most conditions. With the roof down there was quite a considerable amount of buffeting but with the rear wind deflector in place this reduced this to a more than acceptable level and made the vehicle extremely comfortable. Two negatives with the wind deflector, however. It makes the vehicle a two seater car, as it completely takes over the rear. The other big criticism is how anybody can justify £290 for a bit of tube and some netting.

A3 cabriolets are available from £20,915 for the 1.2-litre petrol and the top of the range 2-litre petrol S-line, will set you back £28,790. My 2-litre TDi Sport was priced at £27,820.

You can get a slice of the action with the Leon FR

By John Griffiths

You can't have your cake and eat it, so the old saying goes: but like so many things in the motoring world technology has changed all that.

You can have a car that is both fast and frugal, and one of the best examples currently on the market is SEAT's Leon FR, the diesel-fuelled equivalent of the mighty Cupra.

In three-door coupe body style only, it's sleek, stylish and better equipped than many more expensive 'premium' saloons: it's also capable of tackling the 0 to 62mph in 7.4 seconds and yet it is also capable of averaging more than 62mpg with low CO2 emissions of 119g/km.

That's with the DSG automated transmission: the six-speed manual isn't any quicker but fuel consumption and CO2 emissions are a bit lower still.

But it isn't only quick in the sprint: with 380NM of torque (more than a Porsche Cayman) from as low as 1,750rpm it pulls strongly from the word go, unleashing convincing in-gear acceleration for rapid exits to corners and effective overtaking.

There are rivals – the flagships of the diesel-powered Golf GTis and Audi A3s which are, of course, from the same stable, with the same engine. There's also the BMW 1 Series M Sport, but you'd have to pay between £2,200 and £5,000 more for one of these different badges.

Beauty is in the eye of the beholder but the FR is arguably the real head-turner or the bunch, with its sculptured body work and LED headlights and taillights.

Unlike many hot hatchbacks of the past, the Leon is one of the most complete cars around, and one that will bring a smile to your face and, with room for five in comfort, it's also perfect for transporting the family. Like all new generation Leons, there's more head and legroom and boot space is up by around ten per cent, to 390 litres with five on board.

The FR has sports suspension and the car is lowered by some 15mm, with steering that is light yet positive which makes tackling twisty roads a pleasure.

The top FRs (there's also a 150Ps version) also get a multi-link suspension system, designed to ensure maximum contact between tyre and road. And like all new-generation Leons, it's considerably lighter and has a wider track than its predecessor to improve handling.

Smooth

The sharp handling doesn't come at the expense of a typically harsh sporting car ride: in fact it is notably smooth and quiet. It has a combination of real-world performance, passenger comfort and refinement which would make it a serious competitor in the grand tourer class.

At the car's heart is a two-litre, turbocharged diesel (the same used in the Golf and Audi) with 184ps of power, or 181bhp in old money, which for SEAT is reserved solely for FR models.

The test car was fitted with the group's DSG dual clutch, six-speed transmission which is renowned for its smooth and responsive operation.

Naturally there are paddles behind the steering wheel for rapid manual changes. I find the DSG's electronic controls are intelligent enough for almost any conditions, but the ability to easily down shift for fine control on a steep incline, for example, is sometimes welcome.

Inside, the centre of the dash is dominated by the colour touch screen control for, among other things, the premium sound system and satnav. Most stereo, trip and telephone controls are duplicated on the steering wheel.

The touch screen also controls, simply and intuitively, features such as the comprehensive trip computer and SEAT's driver profile system: two quick dabs of the index finger and you can rapidly set the car up in normal, eco or sport mode, or indeed to your individual preferences.

Usefully, though, you can bimble along in eco mode and do your bit for the environment but, should an overtaking opportunity present itself, a nudge of the gear selector takes you straight into sport mode, dropping a gear or two and unleashing all that power and torque.

Driver profile alters throttle response, steering feel and, in DSG versions, gearbox response, to suit the circumstances: for example in sport mode holding the lower gear to higher rpm.

In 'normal' mode, the throttle is less sharp, the steering feels lighter and the DSG will change gear hold the higher gears for longer, for better economy and smooth progress around town.

Eco mode takes that profile a little further and even alters the climate control and engine stop/start systems to maximise fuel savings.

It's part of a raft of technology fitted to the FR, much of it designed to make the car even safer. Apart from the now usual ABS and stability controls, there is a limited slip differential for improved cornering performance plus hill start assist.

NOTICE TO READERS

Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.

Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

KITTENS, 12 weeks plus, litter trained and wormed, 1 tabby, 1 black and white. £40 each. 07855 267033 (after 6pm).

Bow Street shatter Crystal's cup run

Cannock Charity Cup Round One

SECOND Division Bow Street knocked out Crystal Fountain of Division 1, 5-3, but that's only half the story.

Playing with only 10 men, Bow Street soon found themselves two down at half time and then three down after an hour.

The whole team finally woke up and responded with a great 30 minutes of football to fight back and win. Up stepped the star of the show, Daniel Bolas who scored all five goals.

The Bell & Bottle finally won their first game of the season knocking out Movecorp

Football

7-5 after extra time. Adam Mitchell scored a hat-trick, Ross Harvey and Mitch Parks added a goal each with MoM John Bolas scoring two.

Trafalgar knocked out Pied Piper 4-1 with goals coming from Mark Reynolds, Jack Bagnall and Steve Bickley.

AFC Slade beat Cannock Rangers 3-0 thanks to a hat-trick from Man of the Match Dan Jones.

Premier League

Brereton Lion fought back from two goals down at half time to beat Dynamo

Lamb 5-2 and go top of the league by doing so.

MoM Beckham Foultan scored his eighth and ninth goals of the season, Ben Cushion added two with Alex Houston scoring one.

Rugeley Utd climb to fifth by beating CK77 8-2. Pete Gladwyn scored four goals and Dean Watkiss two.

Division One

Colliers Arms go top after beating Oakwood 3-2. Trailling 1-0, Rich Barton, Man of the Man Rich Newell and an own goal stole the points after Oakwood missed two penalties. Wheatsheaf knocked Chase Spartans off top spot with a 4-2 victory. Nelson Inn beat Lea Hall 6.0

Division Two

Bridgtown Social beat Winding Wheel 3-2. AFC Victoria climb a place after beating AFC Social 2-1. Brinsford Prison beat Cheslyn Hay 5-4.

Division Three

Soldiers climb to level on points with the leaders White Lion after beating Essington 2-0. Pear Tree beat Darlaston Green 6-4 .

AFC Castle beat Glassworks 3-2.

Game is up within the first 10 minutes

Burntwood 17 Handworth 34

BURNTWOOD'S hopes of toppling unbeaten league leaders Handsworth evaporated in the opening 10 minutes.

By then they found themselves 17-0 down. The fac they shared the rest of the game at 17 points apiece provided some consolation but the damage had already been done.

The hosts made the worst possible start. They fumbled the Handsworth kick off and two passes later the visitors scored a try within 10 seconds.

Play remained in the home half from the restart courtesy of a penalty kick to the left corner. A series of drives by the forwards took play infield before good handling by the backs led to a try in the right corner.

They went close again but were denied by a forward pass. However, their third try quickly followed.

They won a Burntwood line out on halfway to feed along the backs to the left winger. He beat two cover tacklers for a converted try.

The hosts received some encouragement when they scored on their first visit to the opposition 22.

Peach kicked a penalty award to the corner to set up an attack from the line out. Brett Taylor checked the drift defence which allowed Hal Gozukucuk to force his way over the line.

Peach converted and then added a fine penalty goal from 40 metres. Just as Ben Holt's side were back in the contest they made another costly error at the kick off.

It presented a line out to the visitors, an area of the game they were dominating. They worked the ball right and then left via good handling to create another try in the clubhouse corner.

The conversion made it 24-10 and it stayed that way until half time.

In the second half Peach put his side in good position with a kick to the corner.

Josh Canning won the line out to set Aza Dunet and Gozukucuk in motion. The last pass went forward but the home pack won the ensuing scrum against the put in.

The drive for the line was finished off by Ian Jones. Peach's conversion made it a seven point deficit again and seemingly game on.

A try then would have made for a very interesting last quarter but it was Handsworth who scored next to stretch away. A penalty kick to the home 22 led to another try for the left winger on 56 minutes.

The result was decided on 67 minutes with what proved to be the final score of the game. The visitors profited from another line out which allowed the No. 8 to force his way over.

Ian Jones in the thick of the action for Burntwood during the match against visitors Handsworth

Late one by Star shares the points

Continental Star 2
Heath Hayes 2

HEATH Hayes made the short journey to Rushall's Dales Lane ground to play Continental Star and came away with a well-earned point,

After an even first 20 minutes Star took the lead when Ben Maddox gave away a free kick on the left which was floated in to Hayes's area only for keeper Matt Cottrell to drop the ball at the feet of Marcell Simpson who had the simple task of netting

It took a goal from Danial Scragg on 37 mins to equalise when he broke down the left to find the bottom corner of the net past keeper Jordon Ellis

The game swung in Hayes' favour when debutant centre forward Joe Pickering burst through the centre only to be brought down for a penalty from which Joe McNulty netted.

The game could have been sealed for Hayes minutes later when Joe McNulty had a close range effort some saved by Star's keeper Jordon Ellis

This proved costly for Hayes with time running out, Star equalised when Franklin Hazel squeezed the ball home from a tight angle to make sure the spoils were shared.

Scragg is the hero for Hayes

Heath Hayes 3
Walsall Wood 2 (Ige cup)

HEATH Hayes refused to lay down and came back from a two nil deficit to win this hard fought local derby.

Wood took a 1-0 lead into half time and increased it with a goal from Ben Evans to look like they were going to take the game away from Hayes.

However, Joe Pickering pulled a goal back for Hayes on 65 min to give them hope.

Dan Scragg then hit a tremendous 18-yard volley to equalise on 80 mins.

Scragg then stamped his mark on the game and put away the winner in injury time when he broke away to score what was a great individual goal which saw Hayes through.

Lichfield fail to make a comeback

Sutton Coldfield 19
Lichfield 17

THE visitors were assured in defence until the Sutton No.8 crashed over from a dominant scrum on the 10 minute mark.

Lichfield then profited with a brace of tries. Firstly,Paul Maxwell Keys scored. Straight from the restartHarvey Wootton touched down. Both tries went unconverted.

Just before the half hour mark, Lichfield extended . Callum Turner outpaced the cover defence to score. Josh Massey converted . A slick backs' move brought a try for the home full back, before a fortuitous try from a kick through earned Sutton a 19-17 lead.

Coming out for the second half, Lichfield were still confident of overturning the two point deficit, and enjoyed large periods of pressure throughout the third quarter.

Unfortunately a second serious injury for Sutton played into the home side's hands, as the referee was forced to move the match on to the significantly smaller and boggier parallel pitch for the final 20 minutes.

Lichfield tried in vain to force the winning score, but they found it harder to outflank the Sutton defence.

McIlroy is a frontrunner for BBC title

RORY McILROY is favourite to round off the most successful spell of his career with the BBC Sports Personality of the Year award after being confirmed among the 10 shortlisted contenders.

McIlroy, who won the final two majors of the year as well as helping Europe retain the Ryder Cup, will bid to become the first golfer to win the prestigious award since Nick Faldo in 1989.

But McIlroy could face a stern challenge from Lewis Hamilton, who claimed his second Formula One world title in Abu Dhabi.

The other contenders include footballer Gareth Bale, boxer Carl Froch, and skeleton champion Lizzy Yarnold.

Fight back fails in crucial match

Cannock Ladies 1sts 2
Kendal Ladies 1sts 5

Hockey

CANNOCK began this critical match by going a goal behind inside two minutes.

They fought their way back into the game and it was just reward when Lucy Spencer fired home a penalty corner shortly before half-time.

Having built momentum, Cannock could have done without the break and took another 10 minutes to get going. But once they had a head of steam they pressurised the visitors but could not add to their goal.

Kendal pressed as the game drew to a close but could not find a winner and the game finished in a draw that favoured neither side.

Cannock's all round effort was emphasised as defender Beth Archer and forward Louise Humphrey shared the player-of-the-match honours.

Cannock Ladies 2nd 1
Northampton Saints Ladies 1sts 3

With Cannock taking the lead early from a strike at the top of the D from Sarah Drayton-chana. Northampton equalised just before half time.

Northampton came out fighting in the second half and show why they were top of the league, scoring two more goals, leaving the final score 3-1 to the visitors. Cannock take on Loughborough away for the final league game before the Christmas break.

Cannock Ladies 3rds 7
Lichfield Ladies 3rds 2

Cannock Ladies were looking to keep their lead at the top of the table.

Cannock lead the way in Staffs Div 1 by two points with Stafford Ladies 1s just behind, both sides are unbeaten and it looks as though the season will go right to the wire. Cannock dominated this game from start to finish.

Hannah Cole opened the scoring. The second half saw Bev Cartlidge and Leah Smith both get on the score-sheet to finish the spirited visitors off.

Gr-eight display gives win to Khalsa

Wolverhampton SC 0
Sporting Khalsa 8

SPORTING Khalsa brushed aside a young Sporting Community to progress to the next round of the Staffordshire FA Vase.

The home side chalked up just one shot on goal as they were dominated by Khalsa, for whom Craig Bannister and Brad Lawley grabbed hat-tricks.

It took until the 20th minute before the deadlock was broken when Craig Bannister drove home from 15 yards.

Lawley did got his first when he fired home after brilliant work by Carlo Franco.

The match was all but finished as a contest just before the interval when Bannister grabbed his second, turning home from close range after some horror show defending from the home side.

Just after the break, Lawley doubled his tally with a free header from a Tim Jackson corner before a brilliant dribble and shot by Mensah Kinch made it 5-0.

Craig Bannister slotted home from close range on 53 minutes to make it six and Lawley repeated the feat on 62 minutes.

Cannock do the double over rivals Hamstead

Cannock 5 Hampstead & Westminster 2

AFTER last week's game was abandoned, Cannock was keen to continue the hunt for valuable points.

Having beaten Hampstead in the away fixture they were confident they could repeat the result at home. Returning to the home of his playing career Hampstead's head coach Michael Johnson now looked to make his mark with this fixture.

Hockey

Hampstead had obviously arrived determined to make amends for their earlier defeat.

They attacked Cannock aggressively from the off and it proved difficult for the home side to get a grip on the game.

After 15 minutes Toby Roche converted a penalty corner to put Hampstead ahead. This was followed by a Matthew Botha goal to put Hampstead two goals up.

As the first half closed the Cannock faithful were talking of relegation in despondent tones.

However, in the closing minutes of the half Pete Jackson fired home a penalty corner deflected off a Hampstead defender, to lift the spirits.

An invigorated Cannock pressed Hampstead from the restart and after a couple of near misses, including a strike against the post, Alex Edmonstone deflected in a second Pete Jackson penalty corner.

After continued pressure, Louie Morris pushed the ball over Hampstead's Great Britain Under-21 Keeper, from a through ball by Captain Marc Edwards, to put Cannock in the lead for the first time.

This was the confidence boost Cannock needed and four minutes later the older of the Morris brothers, Tom, also got on the score sheet .

The icing on the cake was complete when Tom Morris was denied a goal by the body of a Hampstead defender and a penalty was awarded to Cannock.

Up stepped the reliable Pete Jackson once again and converted to give Cannock a 5-2 lead. Only a couple of fine saves by the Hampstead Keeper denied Cannock two further goals.

Despite a penalty corner to Hampstead in the final minute, Cannock remained strong and picked up the three points.

Elsewhere in the Midlands Hockey Leagues Cannock had mixed results.

The Seconds got back on a winning track with an 8-0 win over Belper. The Thirds were 3-1 winners away to Birminham Uni, the Fourths however, went down 5-1 to Loughborough Student, but the Fifths beat Edgbaston 4-2.

The Sevenths won 3-1 win over Bridgnorth.

Fighters haul in the medals

YOUNG martial artists from Wolverhampton have celebrated a bumper medal haul at an international karate championships.

Seven students from Ikon Martial Arts Centre, Showell Road, Bushbury, came home with medals from the Wadokai European Karate Championships in Reading. They had all been selected to represent England.

Melissa Griffiths, aged 12, won gold in the team kata event, silver in individual fighting and bronze in individual kata. Megan Hill, 14, won gold in female cadets and silver in team fighting. John Steel, 13, won silvers for individual fighting and team fighting. Brother Tom, 14, won gold in male cadets and silver in team cadets.

Rowe calls for Wolves' pride to rise

TOMMY ROWE says Wolves must not be scared to get on the ball as they look to end their losing run – insisting bravery is the only way to get their shattered confidence back.

Successive maulings against East Midlands opposition have seen Wolves drop down into a congested mid-table after a promising start to life back in the Championship.

Things will get no easier with Saturday's trip to Brentford – the Bees are buzzing after going fifth in the table thanks to four straight wins.

After the weekend's 3-0 loss to Nottingham Forest, midfielder Rowe admitted Wolves must start to show their claws.

First time win over Scholars for Utd

Chasetown 0
Norton United 1

FA Cup First Round heroes Norton United won their first ever league encounter with Chasetown with a goal good enough to grace any game of football.

With 16 minutes on the clock, Lee Cropper motored past Leon Miles and, before Chris Slater could get across to challenge, fired a powerful shot into the roof of the net beyond John Bateman, who had no chance in the Chasetown goal.

Such was the quality of the strike, a group of Cardiff City supporters who make an annual trip to watch Chasetown as well as some of the home supporters were applauding the quality of Cropper's strike.

The goal illuminated an otherwise very dull game with defences on top and goalkeepers largely troubled.

However, Chasetown did have the perfect opportunity to equalise late on when Simon Brown was leaned on by the defender as he tried to bear down on goal. Referee Ms Rashid had no hesitation pointing to the penalty spot.

The Scholars had gone out of the league cup in midweek on penalties and their luck was out this time too as Chris Fletcher kept out Brown's kick.

Hoping for Tom's return

DEAN Smith remains hopeful Walsall's top scorer Tom Bradshaw will return for this weekend's derby at Coventry. The nine-goal striker missed his third straight game with a hamstring injury at Fleetwood on Saturday.

His fitness will be assessed again this week, along with that of midfielder Sam Mantom who was also absent again with a long-term knee problem. Wide player Mal Benning meanwhile has undergone a scan on a knee injury suffered in last week's FA Cup defeat to Shrewsbury.

Saturday's win was the Saddlers first in the league without Bradshaw in the starting line-up and Smith was delighted with the performance, after ringing the changes on the forward line.

"I'm hopeful Tom will be available (for Coventry)," said Smith.

Cannock keep the Dogs on a short leash

Cannock 75 Greyhound 0

Rugby

A pushover scrum steered by Matt Madsen, John Shirley and Craig Richards allowed skipper Freeman to open the scoring.

Cannock were fully in control from the off and Freeman broke and with a nice dummy went over for his second try.

Stephen Frost then bundled over from a scrum.

Cannock went over again from another scrum, meaning Freeman claimed a first half hat-trick.

MoM Neil Cartwright found Ley who tore up the field and found Humphries who gassed it 50 metres to score.

Some slick work from then Iain Whitmell who found Brad Stanaway on the second wave and the flanker went over in the corner to all but end the game as a contest.

Good runs from Stewart Macdougall and Ley again put the hosts back in dangerous territory. Some pick and goes eventually saw Craig Richards crash over.

John Shirley who enjoyed a terrific game stripped the ball off Greyhounds' brave but small winger and popped to Madsen who went over in the corner.

After the break Stanaway went over again after a rolling maul from the line out.

Cannock upped the ante againthis time it was Ley who ran in to score.

As the game entered the last five minutes, Nick Platek looked very strong and was difficult to stop. The scrum remained in full control and a penalty was awarded. Cartwright tapped and Lovell crashed over to complete a very well rounded debut. A satisfying win which could have been more if the mistakes were cut out. Coach Tomlinson reiterated this saying the result is pleasing and one we must build on.

"We have three very intriguing league fixtures coming up which will show our credentials better by the end of it. I will be putting the lads through passing and catching drills until it sinks in." Cannock travel to Buxton this week in the cup. MoM went to Neil Cartwright who put in a very pleasing 'did everything right' performance.

The Vets lost out 22-19 to Congleton Vets in a close contest. The Thirds lost out 44-0 away to a strong Eccleshall side.

PITMEN FOUR-CE ONWARDS IN CUP

Halesowen Town 1 Hednesford Town 4

HEDNESFORD eased into the quarter finals of the Birmingham Senior Cup with a comprehensive win.

The Pitmen also ended Halesowen's long unbeaten home record.They were soon ahead in the third minute when Paul Sullivan played an exchange of passes.

Football

He then curled a 15-yard shot past home goalkeeper Matt Sargeant in the soaking wet conditions.

But the Yeltz equalised in the 17th minute when Robert Thompson-Brown found space in the Hednesford area and his low shot could only be helped into the net by central defender Ben Bailey.

Halesowen increased the pressure late in the first half when Thompson-Brown's shot was cleared off the line and Elliott Turner's deflected free-kick trickled just wide.

A minute before the interval Neil MacKenzie's blistering drive was beaten away by goalkeeper Dan Crane from a free-kick on the edge of the Hednesford penalty area.

At the start of the second half Richie Batchelor's effort was gathered by home goalkeeper Sargeant before the visitors added three more goals.

Jamey Osborne skipped through the home defence to fire the Pitmen back into the lead after 61 minutes.

Substitute Steve Diggin made the tie safe for Hednesford by heading home a 71st minute corner from close range and defender Bailey put the Pitmen out of sight with an almost identical headed fourth goal from another right-wing corner with four minutes remaining.

Hednesford 2 Tamworth 3

A stoppage-time goal condemned Hednesford to defeat in the Staffordshire derby in the Vanarama North.

Former Tamworth defender Francino Francis headed in an 18th minute corner to give the home side a deserved leadReece Styche then calmly slotted home a penalty. .

A few minutes later Tamworth took the lead through Hibbert when Ben Bailey hesitated for a moment after a quick throw on the right wing and the striker finished well past Crane.

Jamey Osborne finally found some space 30 yards out and played a wonderfully judged ball to release Glover down the left channel and he squared for Alex Melbourne to fire into the net to equalise.

Unfortunately for the Keys Park faithful Tamworth skipper Dan Preston guided his shot into the far corner for the winner.

Jamey Osborne's strike puts the Pitmen back in the lead the cup clash against Halesowen

Walsall had point to prove

BEN PURKISS claims the desire to be "coupon busters" helped drive Walsall to their stunning win at Fleetwood.

The Saddlers upset the odds as they became the first visiting team to win at Highbury Stadium in more than nine months.

And Purkiss revealed how manager Dean Smith used the chance to prove both the bookies and punters wrong as motivation for his side's second straight away league win, following on from an equally impressive victory at Notts County earlier this month.

"I think coupon busters is the cliché," said the defender. "Sometimes I read on Twitter pundits working out their accumulators and I always quite like it when they back the other team.

"I saw that before Saturday and I saw it before Notts County as well," said Purkiss.

"We went there and the gaffer used it as motivation. I think we rose to the occasion and thoroughly deserved the win."

Romaine Sawyers got the only goal of the game in the first half as the Saddlers claimed a 1-0 win.

Freddie is back as Wolves rider

SPEEDWAY ace Freddie Lindgren set his sights on the play-offs after sealing a return to Wolves.

The popular 29-year-old Swede's return to Monmore, following a year away, was confirmed on Monday at the club's winter talk-in with fans. Lindgren first raced for Wolves in 2003 as a 17-year-old.
